The Arrangement of the Catalogue

Part B of this book contains the catalogue of “The C. C. Liu Collection on New Music in China”. The 1,163 entries are organized into five sections according to material formats:

- Section I — Scores;
- Section II — Books and Ephemera;
- Section III — Manuscripts;
- Section IV — Audio-visual Materials and
- Section V — Journals.

Each entry is arranged by author or title in alphabetical order and assigned a sequential number. Arrangers, lyricists and librettists are listed under “Alternate author” below the main entry. Because the University of Hong Kong Libraries is in the process of converting the classification system of the Chinese, Japanese and Korean Collection from the modified Lai Yunghsiang Classification System to the Library of Congress Classification System, call numbers have been deliberately omitted from the catalogue.

1. Author Index

This index is arranged alphabetically by author/composer's surname. To facilitate retrieval, joint authors/composers, translators, arrangers, performers, lyricists and librettists have also been included. Surnames Lu and Lü have been interfiled. Multiple works by the same author/composer are arranged in alphabetical order by title. Hanyu pinyin is used for Chinese authors.

2. Title Index

Titles are arranged in alphabetical order. Uniform and parallel titles assigned to scores have also been included. For translated works, the titles published in their original languages are also shown. Titles published in Chinese are given in Hanyu pinyin.

The C. C. Liu Collection on New Music in China at the University of Hong Kong

Helen Woo

Music Library, University of Hong Kong, Hong Kong, China

July 15, 1999 was a memorable day for the University of Hong Kong Libraries. Liu Ching-chih (Liu Jingzhi) 劉靖之 sent a letter accompanied by an article by Barbara Mittler¹ from the Institute of Chinese Studies, University of Heidelberg, to Kan Lai-bing (Jian Libing) 簡麗冰, University Librarian at the time. In this letter Liu offered to donate his research materials, collected over the past two decades on music, translation, and Chinese literature, from his research project on “The History of New Music in China, 1885–1985”.² Since the collection comprised mostly music, I was asked by Kan to examine this treasure on July 30. On August 4, Chan Hing-yan (Chen Qingen) 陳慶恩, the present Head of the Department of Music and I, made a trip to Room 206 at the Centre of Asian Studies, where these materials were housed, which is not far from the Hung Hing Ying Building, home of the Music Library and the Department of Music. Scores, books, newspaper clippings, and journals filled the entire room.

While perusing these impressive research materials, we learned that part of the collection was housed at Liu’s residence. I accepted his invitation to view the collection the following day and was excited to find it even more noteworthy. I submitted my assessment of the collection to Kan shortly afterwards, and was charged with the responsibility of acquiring the entire collection, a voluminous 50 cartons.

Liu’s generous donation was duly acknowledged by Kan, as well as Manolete Mora and Y. C. Cheng (Zheng Yaozong) 鄭耀宗, former Head of the Department of Music and former Vice-Chancellor of the University of Hong Kong respectively at the time.

With the able assistance of my former Library Assistant Mandy Ng, we began

1. Mittler, Barbara, “20th-century Chinese compositions in the C. C. Liu Collection”, CHIME: Journal of the European Foundation for Chinese Music Research no. 4 (1991), 92–95.
 2. New Music in China denotes “music composed by Chinese composers in the twentieth century in the European style.” In Liu, Ching-chih, “Copying, imitating and transplanting: Three stages in the development of new music in China”, Lingnan Journal of Chinese Studies, New Series no. 1 (October 1999), 571.

to sort the collection almost immediately after the pick-up. We received a grand total of 5,776 items — 737 volumes of scores, 363 volumes of music-related books, 376 items of audio-visual materials, 491 issues from 57 journals, 2,983 pamphlets, article reprints, manuscripts, newspaper clippings, concert programme notes, and 180 volumes of materials on translation and Chinese literature. We had an exciting time checking the collection against our library holdings to ascertain what were unique. A list of duplicate items was compiled, and materials, which were already part of our library, as for example, the extensive run of Renmin Yinyue 人民音樂 [People's music], was returned to Liu for donation elsewhere.

The first catalogued book was added to the Music Library on November 2, 2000 and the entire collection was shelf-ready in September 2002. Bi-lingual donation book-plates were affixed to each item to acknowledge Liu's generosity. In addition, a red dot affixed on the spine makes items in this collection easily visible on the shelf.

93.6% or 1,295 titles (1,630 volumes) out of a total of 1,383 titles added to the collection are housed in the Music Library. The balance is kept at either the Fung Ping Shan Library or at the Special Collections Department of the Main Library. 1,163 titles are designated to belong to The C. C. Liu Collection on New Music in China. The remaining 220 items are listed separately under Appendix C "Other Donations from Liu Ching-chih".

The C. C. Liu Collection on New Music in China contains 621 scores. Although the majority of the composers are from the Mainland, like the famous authors of revolutionary mass songs Nie Er 聶耳 and Xian Xinghai 冼星海, composers from Hong Kong and Taiwan are also represented. Worthy of special mention are Nie Er quanji 聶耳全集 [Complete works of Nie Er] in two volumes; Xian Xinghai quanji 冼星海全集 [Complete works of Xian Xinghai] in ten volumes; and Huang Youdi zuopin zhuanji 黃友棣作品專集 [Selected works of Huang Youdi] in twelve volumes.

Other outstanding titles include the limited editions of the five geming xiandai Jingju 革命現代京劇 (revolutionary modern Jingju) — Hongdengji 紅燈記 [The red lantern], Zhiqu Weihushan 智取威虎山 [Taking Tiger Mountain by strategy], Haigang 海港 [On the dock], Qixi Baihutuan 奇襲白虎團 [Raid on the White Tiger Regiment], Longjiangsong 龍江頌 [Ode to Longjiang], one geming jiaoxiang yinyue 革命交響音樂 (revolutionary symphonic music) — comprising two editions of Shajiang 沙家浜 [Sparks amid the reeds], one by the Zhongguo Zhongyang Yuetuan 中國中央樂團 [The Central Philharmonic Orchestra of China] and the other by the Beijing Jingjutuan 北京京劇團 [The Peking Opera Troupe of Beijing]; and two geming xiandai wuju 革命現代舞劇 (revolutionary modern ballets) — Baimaonü 白毛女 [The white-haired girl] and Hongse Niangzijun 紅色娘子軍 [Red detachment of women].

Also worthy of mention are the three versions of He Zhanhao 何占豪 and Chen Gang's 陳鋼 Liang Shanbo yu Zhu Yingtai 梁山伯與祝英台 [Butterfly lovers], comprising the score for violin with orchestra; an arrangement for the violin and piano by Chen Gang and an arrangement for the gaohu, the Chinese two-stringed treble bowed-lute, by Wu Daijiang 吳大江; Jiang Wenye's 江文也 Jiang Wenye shougao zuopinji 江文也手稿作品集 [Facsimiles of Jiang Wenye's manuscript collection], Xian Xinghai's Huanghe dahechang 黃河大合唱 [Yellow River cantata], his most popular and influential work which only took him six days to complete the draft; and Huanghe gangqin xiezouqu 黃河鋼琴協奏曲 [The Yellow River piano concerto]; Ding Shande's 丁善德 Chang Zheng 長征 [Long march], a symphony; Du Mingxin's 杜鳴心 Piaoyangba, jun qi! 飄揚吧，軍旗, a symphonic poem; Fu Renzhi's 符任之 Tian Gu 甜姑 [Sweet maiden], a Chinese opera in four acts; Silu huayu 絲路花雨 [Along the Silk Road], a ballet in six acts; Baishhezhuang 白蛇傳 [The legend of White Snake], another Chinese opera which took Hsu Tsang-houei (Xu Changhui) 許常惠 ten years to compose, and Wang Yunjie's 王雲階 Dier jiaoxiangyue kangri zhanzheng 第二交響樂抗日戰爭 [The second symphony: the war of resistance against Japanese aggression].

Also included is a large collection of sheet music with songs composed during the Sino-Japanese Conflict (1937–1945) and Cultural Revolution (1966–1976). Composers well represented include He Zhanhao, Chen Gang, Huang Youdi, Huang Zi 黃自, Jiang Wenye, Ma Sicong 馬思聰, Nie Er, Xian Xinghai, Wu Daijiang, Du Mingxin 杜鳴心 and Hsu Tsang-houei.

A total of 387 books were added to the Music Library collection. There are over 30 composer and artist compilations, put together in-house, consisting of biographical information from journal reprints, newspaper clippings, and pamphlets bound together and catalogued as books, e.g. Jiang Wenye, Huang Zi, Ma Sicong, Fu Cong 傅聰, Xiao Youmei 蕭友梅, Nie Er, Xian Xinghai, Si Yigui 斯義桂, Wang Lisan 汪立三, etc. These valuable research tools for the study of composers and artists from mainland China, Hong Kong, and Taiwan are not easily found elsewhere.

Worthy of mention also is the seven-volume set of Liu's Zhongguo xinyinyueshi lunji 中國新音樂史論集 [History of new music in China: collected essays] and the eight-volume set of Minzu Yinyue Yanjiu 民族音樂研究 [Studies of Ethnomusicology]. Other titles comprise Jindai Yinyue Zuopin Yinxiang Mulu 近代音樂作品音響目錄 [Catalogue of modern music works], an index of the works of 44 Chinese composers; the three-volume Zhongguo Jinxiandai Yinyueshi Jiaoxue Ziliao: Wenzhi Bufen 中國近現代音樂史教學資料：文字部份 [Teaching materials on China's modern music history]; the two-volume Zhongguo Jinxiandai Yinyueshi Cankao Ziliao. Dier Bian: 1919–1927 中國近現代音樂史參考資料. 第2編：1919–1927 [Reference materials on the history of modern music in China. Part two: 1919 to 1927], with extensive coverage on Xiao Youmei, Zhao Yuanren 趙元任, Liu Tianhua 劉天華, and Li Jinhui 黎錦暉; three out of four volumes (volume two missing) of Zhongguo Jinxiandai Yinyueshi Cankao Ziliao. Disan Bian: 1927–1937 中國近現代音樂史參考資料. 第3編：1927–1937 [Reference materials on the history of modern music in China. Part 3: 1927–1937], with volume one dedicated to Nie Er; the four volume Zhongguo Jinxiandai Yinyueshi Cankao Ziliao. Disi Bian: 1937–1945 中國近現代音樂史參考資料. 第4編：1937–1945 [Reference materials on the history of modern music in China. Part 4: 1937–1945], with extensive coverage on Zhang Shu 張曙, Mai Xin 麥新, Zhang Hanhui 張寒暉, and the four-volume Zhonghua Yuexue Tonglun 中華樂學通論 [General survey of China's musicology].

Other titles worth mentioning include the four Conference Proceedings on Chinese Ethnomusicology [Zhongguo minzu yinyuexue huiyi 中國民族音樂學會議] organized by Taiwan's Xingzhengyuan Wenhua Jianshe Weiyuanhui 行政院文化建設委員 [Council for Cultural Affairs Executive Yuan] and Zhongguo Jinxiandai Yinyue Shumu: Xiudinggao (1841–1919) 中國近現代音樂書目：修訂稿 (1841年–1919年) [A bibliography on China's modern music: revised edition (1841–1919)]. There is also an extensive collection of books on the Chinese opera, covering different regions of China.

Both Liu's M. Phil. thesis Guan Hanqing Sanguo Gushi Zaju Yanjiu 關漢卿三國故事雜劇研究 [A study of Guan Han-qing's dramatization of the San-quo stories] published in 1979 at the University of Hong Kong and his Ph. D. thesis Shizhong Yuanren Shuihu Gushi Zaju Yanjiu 十種元人水滸故事雜劇研究 [Ten Yuan dramas on stories from the Water Margin] published in 1983 also at the University of Hong Kong comprise also part of the collection.

Out of the 48 manuscripts housed at the Special Collections Department of the Main Library, 41 were written by Liu himself. They cover the history and criticism on the music in China in the twentieth century, Chinese drama of the Yuan Dynasty from 1260–1368, as well as review articles, articles on painting, calligraphy, and languages in Hong Kong, etc. Other manuscripts in this collection include ones written by Chen Yingshi 陳應時, Jiang Yimin 蔣一民, Jin Jingyan 金經言, Wang Rou 王柔, Yin Falu 陰法魯, and Zhao Xiaosheng 趙曉生 on various topics in music.

The collection also holds 71 audio-visual materials. All except two are audio-cassettes. There is one videocassette Bayun Guxiang: Lin Shengxi (Lin Sheng-shih) Geyuezhān 白雲故鄉：林聲翕歌樂展 [Home beyond the clouds: vocal music of Lin Shengxi], and one compact disc on the music of Xinjiang, Mongolia, Pakistan, India, Japan, and Russia. Audio-cassettes contain recordings of many renowned composers including Lin Sheng-shih, Ma Sicong, Ma Shuilong 馬水龍, Chen Peixun 陳培勳, Huang Zi, Tan Dun 譚盾, Chen Yi 陳怡, Ye Xiaogang 葉小鋼, Zhang Qianyi 張千一, Qu Xiaosong 瞿小松, Du Mingxin, Zhu Jianer 朱踐耳, and Chen Nengji 陳能濟. Music by Taiwan composers such as Hsu Tsang-houei, Wu Dajiang, and Wen Longxin 溫隆信. Chinese folk music especially those from the Fujian Province, music of the Tang Dynasty, and music from the Sino-Japanese Conflict and Cultural Revolution periods are also well represented.

Out of the 37 journal titles added to the collection, some are new titles not held by the Music Library, e.g. Yinyue Shenghuo 音樂生活 [Musical life], Shengjiao Yuexun 省交樂訊 [Newsletter of the Taiwan Philharmonic Orchestra], which is continued by Yue Lan 樂覽 [Music kaleidoscope], Zhonghua Yinyue Wenhua Jiaoyu Zazhi 中華音樂文化教育雜誌 [China musical culture education], Bamin Yuetan 八閩樂壇 [Music world of Fujian], Xiandai Yuefeng 現代樂風 [Modern music trend]; while some fill-in gaps of existing titles already in the Music Library such as Renmin Yinyue [People's music], Huangzhong: Wuhan Yinyue Xueyuan Xuebao 黃鐘：武漢音樂學院學報 [Huangzhong: Journal of Wuhan Music Conservatory], Yinyue Tansuo 音樂探索 [Explorations in music]; Yuefu Xinsheng: Shenyang Yinyue Xueyuan Xuebao 樂府新聲：瀋陽音樂學院學報 [New voice of yuefu: the academic periodical of Shenyang Conservatory of Music], and Yinyue Yanjiu 音樂研究 [Music research].

The C. C. Liu Collection on New Music in China is the result of Liu's concerted effort in conducting research on "The History of the New Music Movement in China, 1885–1985." Liu was appointed Research Fellow by the Centre of Asian Studies at the University of Hong Kong in 1981, and over the next 22 years, he organized nine seminars and seven supplementary seminars on the history of New Music in China. He also edited and published seven monograph series on "The History of New Music in China" and eight monograph series on “Studies in Ethnomusicology.” Liu painstakingly collected a vast array of invaluable resources, many of which are not commercially available and unique in Hong Kong. This is possibly the largest collection of materials on new music in China in private hands in Hong Kong prior to the turnover to the University of Hong Kong Libraries. The strength of this collection resides in materials related to music of the Sino-Japanese Conflict and the Cultural Revolution.

Liu has played a pivotal role in the promotion of studies and research on New Music in China. His collection provides a unique opportunity for music researchers in Hong Kong and from overseas, who wish to understand the musical past of China from 1885 to present. The University of Hong Kong’s Music Library has already received a number of interlibrary loan requests for materials from this collection from both local and overseas institutions. We are indeed very much honoured to be the chosen home for this exceptional collection.
