Cantonese Society in Hong Kong and Singapore

Gender, Religion, Medicine and Money

Essays by Marjorie Topley

Edited and Introduced by Jean DeBernardi

HONG KONG UNIVERSITY PRESS
Contents

List of Illustrations vii
Foreword xi

Introduction Cantonese Society in Hong Kong and Singapore: Gender, Religion, Medicine and Money 1

Part I Chinese Ritual Practice in Singapore

Chapter 1 Some Occasional Rites Performed by the Singapore Cantonese 27
Chapter 2 Chinese Rites for the Repose of the Soul, with Special Reference to Cantonese Custom 57
Chapter 3 Paper Charms, and Prayer Sheets as Adjuncts to Chinese Worship 73
Chapter 4 Ghost Marriages among the Singapore Chinese 97
Chapter 5 Ghost Marriages among the Singapore Chinese: A Further Note 101

Part II Religious Associations in Singapore and China

Chapter 6 Chinese Women’s Vegetarian Houses in Singapore 107
Chapter 7 Chinese Religion and Religious Institutions in Singapore 125
Chapter 8 The Emergence and Social Function of Chinese Religious Associations in Singapore 175
Chapter 9 The Great Way of Former Heaven: A Group of Chinese Secret Religious Sects 203
Chapter 10 Chinese Religion and Rural Cohesion in the Nineteenth Century 241
Contents

Part III  Economy and Society: Hong Kong and Guangdong

Chapter 11  The Role of Savings and Wealth among Hong Kong Chinese  275
Chapter 12  Capital, Saving and Credit among Indigenous Rice Farmers and Immigrant Vegetable Farmers in Hong Kong’s New Territories  331

Part IV  Religion and Society: Hong Kong and Guangdong

Chapter 13  Some Basic Conceptions and Their Traditional Relationship to Society  365
Chapter 14  Chinese Occasional Rites in Hong Kong  381
Chapter 15  Notes on Some Vegetarian Halls in Hong Kong Belonging to the Sect of Hsien-T’ien Tao: (The Way of Former Heaven) (co-authored with James Hayes)  405
Chapter 16  Marriage Resistance in Rural Kwangtung  423

Part V  Chinese and Western Medicine in Hong Kong

Chapter 17  Chinese Traditional Ideas and the Treatment of Disease: Two Examples from Hong Kong  449
Chapter 18  Cosmic Antagonisms: A Mother-Child Syndrome  471
Chapter 19  Chinese and Western Medicine in Hong Kong: Some Social and Cultural Determinants of Variation, Interaction and Change  489
Chapter 20  Chinese Traditional Aetiology and Methods of Cure in Hong Kong  523

Appendix  Glossary of Chinese Terms  549
Index  573
List of Illustrations

Figures

Introduction

(Editor’s note: These photographs are from Dr. Topley’s private collection. Although they are not catalogued, she recalls that Carl A. Gibson-Hill took these photographs for her.)

1 Marjorie Topley examining paper charm at a ritual goods store at Pagoda Street, Singapore 6
2 Ritual goods store at Pagoda Street, Singapore 6
3 A team of Nam-mo-lo “chanting fellows”, Singapore 7
4 Nam-mo-lo performing the funeral ritual to “break hell” to escort the soul of the deceased through the courts of hell 7
5 Nam-mo-lo performing the ritual to “break hell” 8
6 Altar to Tianhou Shengmu at Wak Hai Cheng Bio 8
7 Marjorie Topley interviewing a Chinese mourner in Singapore 9
8 Singaporean spirit medium possessed by the Great Saint 9
9 Women performing an offering ritual 10
10 Women throwing a live crab to sea as an act of merit-making 10

Chapter 1

1 Material apparatus used in the Kwoh Kwaan rite 30
2 Paper money and joss sticks as used in the rites 31
3 A woman performing the “Prayer against the Little Man” rite 38
4 Prayers to “wash away” sickness 38
5 Procession round the altar during a “Changing Fate” rite 39
6 Procession of priest and mother through the Tiger Gate 39
7 Raising up one of the gods of the year 39
8 Material apparatus used in the Paai Siu Yan rite 41
9 The “Reliever of a Hundred Catastrophes” paper as used in the Paai Siu Yan rite 41
10 Coupon for use by the spirits 43
11 A Kwai Yan Lok Ma paper 43
12 A charm paper portraying the tiger, snake, and eagle used in the Paai Siu Yan rites 44
13 The larger form of the “Good Omen” paper 47
List of Illustrations

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Illustration Description</th>
<th>Page</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>A larger version of the “Reliever of a Hundred Catastrophes” paper</td>
<td>48</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>A variant of the “Reliever of a Hundred Catastrophes” paper</td>
<td>49</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>A variant of the “Reliever of a Hundred Catastrophes” paper</td>
<td>49</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>A version of the “Reliever of a Hundred Catastrophes” paper</td>
<td>49</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pots of paper flowers used in the “Wai Fa Uen” rite</td>
<td>51</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>A “Flowery Tower” paper</td>
<td>54</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>A “Joyful Affair” paper</td>
<td>55</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Chapter 2

1 Banner carried by the chief mourner as a sign of his status                                 58
2 Ritual representation of hell and the paper soul tablet                                    64
3 “Breaking Hell” ceremony, Singapore                                                      65
4 Offering food and prayers to the spirits in Hell                                          67
5 Ceremony of Crossing the Bridge, Singapore                                               69
6 Burning paper objects at the conclusion of the funeral ceremony                          70

Chapter 3

1 A “Mammoth” charm paper                                                                  78
2 A “Credential”                                                                          81
3 A “Credential”                                                                          81
4 A “Credential”                                                                          81
5 “Lucky Horse” and “Honourable Men” Charms                                                82
6 A Charm to the Western Royal Mother and the Royal Lord of the East                      82
7 A Certificate to the Heavenly Gods                                                      83
8 A Ch’ien                                                                               84
9 A Charm to the Gods of the Twelve Constellations                                        84
10 A Charm used by Travellers                                                           84
11 A charm paper used for worshipping the God-who-protects-the-Family                    85
12 Paper to burn at Hsia Yuan                                                            85
13 Armour-and-Horse Paper                                                              85
14 A hand-written Fu                                                                     86
15 A block-made Fu                                                                       86
16 Paper for worshipping the Kitchen God                                                  88
17 Buddha’s Pagoda                                                                       88
18 A Passport for the Spirits                                                           89
19 Money for rebirth                                                                     90
20 A Ch’ien for deceased ancestors and Hungry Ghosts                                     92
List of Illustrations

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Illustration</th>
<th>Page</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>21 A wood panel depicting Chang T’ien Shih</td>
<td>92</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>22 Spirit medium cuts his tongue with a ceremonial sword</td>
<td>93</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>23 Spirit medium licks charm papers to fortify them with blood</td>
<td>93</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>24 Inking charm blocks</td>
<td>93</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>25 The method of printing charms</td>
<td>93</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>26 Three charm blocks</td>
<td>94</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>27 The wall of the temple decorated with charm papers in a ghost marriage ceremony</td>
<td>94</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>28 A ghost marriage ceremony</td>
<td>95</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>29 Part of the wall in a temple in Waterloo Street, Singapore, covered with charm papers</td>
<td>95</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>30 The spirit medium of the Monkey God at a temple in Tiong Bahru, Singapore</td>
<td>96</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Chapter 5

1 Ghost marriage feast in Singapore 103

Chapter 13

1 Geomancer’s equipment 370
2 Some of the sixty T’aai Sui Gods in the Sui Tsing Paak/T’in Hau Temple 375
3 Altar to Kam Fa in the Shui Uei Kung Temple 377

Chapter 14

1 Some of the sixty T’aai Sui Gods in the Sui Tsing Paak/T’in Hau Temple 385
2 Altar to Kam Fa in the Shui Uei Kung Temple 385
3 “Plant of Life” 392
4 Bridge of paper and bamboo with “Honourable Men” fixed to the rail 396
5 “Tiger Gates” used in the Kwoh Kwaan rite 396
6 Boat of paper and bamboo used in ritual for transporting sickness away 397
7 Human figure prints used in rites for sickness 397
8 Set of materials used for the performance of Paai Siu Yan 398
9 Paper cut-outs for ritual performance 398
10 Rite at a T’o Tai shrine 399
11 “Paper Tigers” used in rituals related to the White Tiger God 399
List of Illustrations

Chapter 15
1. The front of the Wing Lok T’ung vegetarian hall 413
2. Members of the Society and children of the area, outside the Kam Ha Ching She vegetarian hall 415
3. Soul-tablets of deceased inmates and other members 416
4. An altar in one of the halls visited 417
5. The Ngau Chi Wan village temple 419
6. Vegetarian refreshments are offered by an elderly inmate of the Tsing Shai vegetarian hall 420

Chapter 20
1. Man in harmony with the cosmos 528
2. The Buddhist view of nature and the cosmos 533
3. Diagnoses of symptoms of ill health 535
4. Taoist priest performing a ritual to cure a sick infant 537
5. Portrait of a Chinese bone-setter 543

Charts

Chapter 9
1. To Early Nineteenth Century 208
2. Division into T’ung-shan She and Kuei-ken Men 209
3. Nineteenth Century and After: Division into P’u-tu Sects 210
4. The Hierarchy of Inner Sects 220

Tables

Chapter 11
1. Investments 302
2. Deposits, Loans and Advances 313
Introduction

Cantonese Society in Hong Kong and Singapore: Gender, Religion, Medicine and Money

Essays by Marjorie Topley

Jean DeBernardi

This book collects the published articles of Dr. Marjorie Topley, who was a pioneer in the field of social anthropology in the postwar period. Her ethnographic research in Singapore and Hong Kong sets a high standard for urban anthropology, focusing on topics that remain current and important in the discipline.

Dr. Topley’s publications reflect her training in British social anthropology, with its focus on fieldwork and detailed empirical observation. She was among the first to refine and extend those methods in the 1950s, adapting them to the study of modernizing urban settings like Singapore and Hong Kong. Her ethnographic research on the Great

1 For support for this project in its initial stage, thanks are due to Paul Kratoska of National University of Singapore Press and Colin Day of Hong Kong University Press. The Social Science and Humanities Research Council of Canada provided funding for a short period of research in Hong Kong in 2006 that allowed me to consult archival sources and to interview longtime members of the Hong Kong Branch of the Royal Asiatic Society (HKBRAS). Jenny Day, the Secretary of HKBRAS, assisted me in gaining access to their records at the Hong Kong Public Records Office. Hugh Baker, Colin Day, James Hayes, and Dan Waters shared knowledge and reminiscences that guided me in preparation of the Introduction, as did Prof. Wang Gungwu, whom Dr. Topley first met in Singapore in the 1950s while he was still a student. Thanks are also due to Michael Duckworth and Dennis Cheung for guiding the manuscript through the final publication process. Last but not least, Dr. Marjorie Topley shared reminiscences, reprints, and photographs, and offered advice as the volume was being prepared.

For their assistance in preparing the chapters for publication, special thanks are due to Paul Harms, Cathy Knita, and Hsu Yu-tsuen, all of the Department of Anthropology, University of Alberta. Prof. Hugh Baker generously spent many hours refining Cantonese entries in the Chinese glossary and also scanned original photographs in Marjorie Topley’s private collection for inclusion in this publication. For careful work in copyediting the manuscript Yat-kong Fung is due special thanks, as is Moira Calder for preparing the index.
Way of Former Heaven sectarian movement and Cantonese women’s vegetarian halls in Singapore in the 1950s is an early contribution to the study of sub-cultural groups in a complex urban society, and she asks insightful questions about the relationship between religion, secularism, and modernity. Because of extensive social change in Singapore and Hong Kong, many of the temples and religious organizations that she describes have disappeared or experienced radical transformation. Consequently, her work on these topics also has added value as historical documentation of the recent past.

Dr. Topley was a pioneer in several areas of scholarship. She conducted important early research on Chinese women’s organizations, and her article on “Marriage Resistance in Rural Kwangtung” (1978) is a classic in the fields of Chinese anthropology and women’s studies. She also broke new ground in the field of Chinese medical anthropology, exploring the interface between Chinese and Western medicine and medical practitioners in Hong Kong, and also investigating Chinese women’s use of traditional and modern remedies especially in the treatment of their children’s illnesses. Her 1974 article, “Cosmic Antagonisms: A Mother-Child Syndrome”, which appeared in a volume on Religion and Ritual in Chinese Society that Arthur Wolf edited, is widely known and cited. A student of Raymond Firth’s, she also focused a number of articles on economic issues, including the collective management of property and wealth.

Dr. Topley never held a full-time academic appointment, but until her return to England in 1983 took full advantage of residence in Singapore and Hong Kong to conduct research, teach, and participate in international conferences. In 1959, she helped to revive the Hong Kong Branch of the Royal Asiatic Society, creating a vibrant organization that organizes public lectures and symposia, publishes a journal and monographs, and invites members on popular expert-led field trips and tours.

Training in England²

When I interviewed Dr. Topley in 2005, she recalled her early life and training in anthropology. Marjorie Topley (née Wills) was born in Hendon, London, in 1927. As a girl she attended Church of England schools that she describes as “ordinary”. She was fascinated by Egyptology and wanted to become an archaeologist. When she was about

---

² While doing archival research in London in May 2005, I visited Dr. Topley at her home and interviewed her about her life and career. The following account is based on that interview.
12 years old she wrote to Sir Flinders Petrie (1853–1942), one of the founders of modern Egyptology. She got a letter back, “You’ve got to be well-off and a man to be an archaeologist.” She resigned herself “to give that one up”.

She was a teenager during World War II:

Of course, you know, I grew up during the war. We were bombed at one point. We used to sleep in an air raid shelter. I was allowed to stay up until 9:30. I stayed up and a German plane dropped two bombs, one behind and one in front. I was calling “Mother, mother”, and she was calling “Mother, mother” too. We were lucky; we weren’t injured.

Because she failed to pass a crucial scholarship examination, for a time she went to a technical college that taught skills like shorthand and typing. She was deeply unhappy there, and the headmaster offered to help her enter the City of London College. She succeeded in winning an award to support her studies, prepared for the London School of Economics (LSE) entrance exam, and passed it.

In her first year she studied geography, but she became bored with it and switched to sociology. But she again lost interest, concluding that sociology was based too much on common sense. Initially anthropology was not an option since Raymond Firth, who was head of department, had concluded that undergraduates should not study anthropology since the subject was morally relative and potentially disturbing. When he changed his mind, she switched her major from sociology to anthropology. Consequently Topley was the first undergraduate student in anthropology at the London School of Economics.

While still an undergraduate Topley attended the famous LSE seminar that Malinowski had initiated during his term as Professor of Anthropology, and which Firth had continued when he assumed the position of Professor. Her fellow students were all postgraduates coming back from the field, and she could only write “little essays from books”. After she read one of these essays out loud to the seminar group, Austrian-born Siegfried Nadel, then a lecturer at the LSE, asked, “Was your journey really necessary?” quoting the words on a government wartime poster. She was devastated by his sarcasm. But she also met more congenial anthropology postgraduates, including Barbara Ward, Maurice Freedman, and Judith Djamour Freedman. Before she was 21 years old, she also did a summer course at the University of Chicago. She found the M.A. students at Chicago to be no more advanced that the undergraduate majors at the LSE, who had specialized in their subject earlier in their careers.
At the LSE Marjorie met her husband, Kenneth Wallis Joseph Topley (1922–2007), who had entered the LSE to study political science after leaving the air force at the end of World War II. There he studied government under Harold Laski (Topley 1969: xviii), a controversial political theorist who also was Chairman of the British Labour Party from 1945–46 and contributed to shaping the party’s policies.3

At that time, anthropology students went directly into the Ph.D. programme without doing an M.A. Marjorie did not think that she could do any further degree since she would have had to do fieldwork. Her formal training in anthropology ended and her work as an ethnographic researcher began when her husband joined the colonial service. In preparation, they studied Chinese at the School of Oriental and African Studies, and in 1951 they went to Singapore.

Singapore (1951–55)

During World War II, the British lost control of Malaya and the Straits Settlements to Japan. On their return to Singapore after World War II, they faced armed opposition to the restoration of colonial rule. From 1948–60, the Malayan Communist Party’s Malayan Races Liberation Army (MRLA) fought a guerrilla war in which they sought to overthrow the British colonial administration. In Malaya, the British forced over 500,000 people — most of them ethnic Chinese — to relocate from isolated areas, seeking to prevent them from providing the insurgents with food. The policy of resettlement, which caused great hardship, only intensified support for the Communists. By the time the Topleys arrived in Singapore in 1951, a number of violent clashes had occurred (see Stubbs 2008). The “Malayan Emergency” was the British colonial government’s name for this conflict.

In April 1951 Topley took a post at the Raffles Museum as curator of anthropology since “they couldn’t get a man to come out during [the] bandit troubles”, i.e., the Emergency. In 1952, a Straits Times reporter interviewed Topley for an article entitled “She Spent a Night in a Death House: Portrait of a Pretty Anthropologist” (Hall 1952). As Topley described it, when she first entered the huge, dusty rooms at the back of the Museum, she found piles of unsorted specimens and exhibits, some of which had been hurriedly stored before the Japanese occupation. Although she would have liked to travel to Malaya to collect items for the museum collection, the “Communist war” made that impractical.

---

3 For further details on Harold Laski, see the LSE website: http://www.lse.ac.uk/resources/LSEHistory/laski.htm (consulted on 3 August 2008).
Consequently, she focused her attention on Singapore. The reporter commented “This young English girl is now as familiar with the inside and the occupants of Buddhist temples, vegetarian halls, Sago lane death-houses, Waterloo Streets’s fertility temple and Chinese cemeteries as she is with Raffles Place.” (Hall 1952)

The Museum expected her to conduct research into subjects of her choice, and her first research focused on occasional rites performed by Cantonese women acting on their own (see Topley 1951; 1952; 1953 [Chapters 1–3 in this book]). When she decided to complete a doctoral degree at the LSE as an external student she launched more intensive research on Cantonese vegetarian halls (or zhaitang), focusing on the economic role of these organizations. She began the research in 1951–52 and continued it in 1954–55.

Topley chose to study the vegetarian halls on the advice of Alan Elliott, who was then working on a doctoral thesis on Chinese spirit medium cults that he published in 1955. In the course of that research, he came across a vegetarian house and suggested that she study it: “Marjorie, I think this would be an excellent thing for you to study, you are a woman and they are women; it would be difficult for a man to do it in any case.” As she described it, “I barged along, and introduced myself. Sometimes I stayed the night, and once they gave me toffees for breakfast.” There were many such vegetarian houses, and she got to know the women living in them, whom she described as very kind to her, and also intrigued that a guailo knew Cantonese.

When they went to Singapore, the Topleys studied both Hokkien and Cantonese with language tutors. 4 In 1953 the government sent them to Macau where they studied Cantonese intensively, spending three to four hours a day with a team of four tutors in preparation for government exams. There, she recalled, she made fairly rapid progress, and started to think in Chinese. As an aid to language learning she also volunteered as tutor for poor children who didn’t speak any English, which forced her to speak Cantonese.

She began research on the vegetarian halls in 1951–52, and on her return to Singapore from Macau decided that it would be possible for her to conduct a more detailed study. In 1954–55, she focused on the religious role of the vegetarian halls and the kind of “social satisfactions that attracted” participants (Topley 1958: 22). She also examined more closely the relationship of the zhaitang to ideas of religious authority and leadership. She discovered by chance that some of the vegetarian halls that she was studying were part of the Great Way of Former Heaven.

---

4 Cantonese was Topley’s primary research language in Singapore and Hong Kong, but when I met her she could still speak some Hokkien with impressive precision.
(Xiantian Dadao), a sectarian group that traced its descent through a line of patriarchs, and her richly detailed doctoral thesis also investigated this group’s history, organization, and ideology.

She also recalls that she collaborated with friends to photograph some of the rituals that she observed in Singapore, including death rituals and other occasional rites. Sago Lane had “dying houses”, and she used to go along there to observe “these fantastic Taoist funeral rites where the Taoist priest leaped over flames.” One time she took a friend, Ivor Polunin, a medical doctor who was keen on doing photography. She obtained permission to photograph and the Taoist priests agreed, but the event was disastrous. Dr. Polunin showed up dressed in bright red shorts, and when he plugged in his flash unit, he blew out all the lights.

Fortunately the priests were forgiving. Another time one of the Taoist priests rang her up at the museum to invite her to a ghost marriage. This time she invited her co-worker at the museum, Carl A. Gibson-Hill, a naturalist and skilled photographer who often accompanied her, taking photographs as she took notes and observed. The woman who had arranged to have the ghost marriage performed was having bad luck, and had trouble getting pregnant. Seeking to diagnose the source of her misfortune, she learned that her husband had been engaged before and that the girl had died before the wedding. Consequently, they arranged a ceremony to marry off the spirit. But Topley and Gibson-Hill’s efforts were again intrusive to the point of being disastrous. The woman did not speak much English, but she looked at Gibson-Hill’s camera and said, “Very, very, very not good.” As Dr. Topley recalls it, “we both felt terribly ashamed.”

Meanwhile, she did her doctoral research externally and had no assigned supervisor. Fortunately she knew Maurice Freedman, who by then was a lecturer at the LSE and had conducted research in Singapore on Chinese kinship from 1949–51 while his wife Judith Djamour studied a Malay village (Skinner 1976: 871). Freedman informally supervised Topley, who wrote to him and sent him sections of her thesis for comments.

Hong Kong (1955–83)

After their intensive language study in Macau, the Topleys decided that they wanted to be in Hong Kong where the majority of the population spoke Cantonese, and in 1955 they transferred there. In 1958 Marjorie completed her doctoral thesis (entitled The Organisation and Social Function of Chinese Women’s Chai T’ang in Singapore). She took her viva (the oral examination that North American academics call a thesis defense) while they were on leave in England, and Freedman was one of her examiners. Her other examiner — a Sinologist at Cambridge University — was sceptical of her research, but nonetheless passed the thesis.
Introduction

In Hong Kong, Kenneth Topley served in a variety of government departments, including Labour, Resettlement, University Grants Committee, Social Welfare, and Census and Statistics, finally serving as Director of Education (Waters 2008). Although she did not seek full-time academic employment, Marjorie maintained a high profile internationally through her research and publications. Through participation in international conferences and in the activities of the Hong Kong Branch of the Royal Asiatic Society, she was widely networked with scholars involved in the growing fields of Sinology and Chinese anthropology. When Mr. Topley retired in 1983, she returned with him to England. But he soon returned to Macau, where he took an administrative position at the University of East Asia in Macau before moving to the Open University in Hong Kong (Waters 2006: 212). In this period, the Topleys divorced.

One factor promoting the prominence of Dr. Topley’s work was the growth of social science research focusing on the Asian region in the so-called Cold War period. After World War II, the Communist party took control of the Chinese mainland, forming the People’s Republic of China (PRC) in 1949. Because the PRC was part of the Cold War Communist bloc, Western-trained social scientists were not able to enter the country to conduct research. For this reason, Topley’s thesis examiner at the LSE, Maurice Freedman and American anthropologist and Sinologist, G. William Skinner collaborated to promote research on Chinese communities in Taiwan and Hong Kong. As a full-time resident of Hong Kong, Topley was well-positioned to take advantage of this development.

As Freedman noted in a 1962 article, as a research site Hong Kong was not just a “listening post” for China (1962: 113). He viewed the fishing and farming communities of the New Territories as still being representative of many aspects of life in rural south-eastern China before Communist rule. Hong Kong he described as a large urban centre undergoing an industrial revolution, and noted the research of Barbara E. Ward, Jean Pratt, and Marjorie Topley. Topley and others were aware that they were seeking to adapt the micro-sociological methods (as Freedman described them) to the study of complex, urban environments (Freedman 1963; Topley 1969).

---

5 Topley did some teaching of sociology at Hong Kong universities, including Chung Chi College and United College at the Chinese University of Hong Kong, and held a Postgraduate Research Fellowship at the Centre of Asian Studies at The University of Hong Kong where she became involved in medical anthropology research.

In 1962 Freedman and Skinner organized the London-Cornell Project to consolidate funding resources for social research. Three institutions collaborated in the project: Cornell University in New York state, where Skinner taught, the School of Oriental and African Studies, and the London School of Economics, where Freedman taught (Skinner 1976: 876). From 1962–72, the London-Cornell Project funded a number of researchers in East and Southeast Asia. Because Topley was well-networked with these scholars, she knew when they were planning to visit Hong Kong and recruited them to give public lectures at the meetings of the Royal Asiatic Society Hong Kong Branch and to publish their work in the society’s journal.

In the 1960s and 1970s, the growth of support for foreign area studies in the United States meant funding not only for research but also for international conferences. In those decades Topley received invitations to participate in a number of these prestigious events, including a 1960 symposium that Raymond Firth and Bert Hoselitz organized on the theme of Economics and Anthropology. The symposium was held at the Wenner-Gren Foundation’s European Conference Center at Burg Wartenstein, an eleventh-century castle in Austria that the foundation purchased in 1957. Between 1958 and 1980, Burg Wartenstein was the site of a number of week-long symposia that shaped the development of anthropology as a discipline, and anthropologists highly coveted invitations to these events (Silverman 2002). Reportedly participants tended to be senior males in the discipline; Topley’s inclusion as a new doctorate suggests that Firth highly regarded her scholarly work and promise.

Topley also attended the 1971 Burg Wartenstein symposium that Charles Leslie organized, which was the first major research conference on Asian medical systems (Leslie 1976). Contributors undertook the ethnographic study of classical Asian medical traditions like Ayurvedic and Chinese medicine as well as investigating the interrelationships between professional and popular medical traditions (see Castro and Farmer 2007: 46).

The Subcommittee on Research on Chinese Society of the Joint Committee on Contemporary China of the American Council of Learned Societies and the Social Science Research Council sponsored a series of international events that drew together top scholars in the China field. The subcommittee provided funding for a 1962 seminar on micro-social organization at Cornell University that Topley attended, to which she contributed a paper on “Chinese Religion and Rural Cohesion in the Nineteenth Century” (Topley 1968a: 40 [see Chapter 10, p. 242 in this book]). Topley also attended a 1971 international conference on Chinese religion that Arthur P. Wolf organized at Asilomar, California, which was the fifth of six major conferences funded by them.
Introduction

Although China was beginning to open up to foreign visitors at this time, extended fieldwork on the mainland was still not possible. Consequently the ethnographic researchers who participated in this event focused their papers on Hong Kong and Taiwan. In his preface to the book that resulted from this conference, Religion and Ritual in Chinese Society, Wolf defended this focus, noting that even though the contributors could only document a small part of a vast and complex society, they could provide detailed, long-term studies of the areas studied (Wolf 1974: v–vi).

The Royal Asiatic Society Hong Kong Branch

One of the pillars of Topley’s intellectual life and contribution in Hong Kong was her involvement in the Hong Kong Branch of the Royal Asiatic Society. She played a major role in the revival of the society, serving as the group’s Vice-President from 1966–1972 and as its President from 1972 until her return to England in 1983.

This society is one of ten Asian branches of the Royal Asiatic Society, which was founded in London in 1823 “for the investigation of subjects connected with and for the encouragement of science, literature and the arts, in relation to Asia.” The society formed branches in Bombay and Madras (1838), in Ceylon (now Sri Lanka) in 1845, and in Malaya in 1877. A branch was formed in Hong Kong in 1847, but had ceased to exist in 1859 when the Governor who had supported it, Sir John Bowring, left the colony. During those twelve years, the society published six volumes of its Transactions, which primarily included contributions from missionaries and members of the British consular service (Cranmer-Byng 1962: 1). In 1857, a North China Branch of the RAS was formed in Shanghai and thrived until political circumstances led to its dissolution in 1949.

On a visit to London in 1958 (during which time she also defended her thesis), Topley wrote a letter to the Secretary of the Royal Asiatic Society to ask if the RAS would be interested in a revival of the China branch in Hong Kong. On her return to Hong Kong, Topley and Jack Cranmer-Byng circulated a memo to assess local interest in which they proposed that the main focus of the branch would be publication of a journal that would be of interest both to specialists and to the educated Topley and Cranmer-Byng recruited the assistance of J. R. Jones, who had been a council member of the now defunct North China Branch of the RAS, and at that time was a legal advisor to the Hong Kong and Shanghai Banking Corporation. He agreed to help them canvass support among business firms in Hong Kong and to draft a constitution. A group of thirty met at the British Council Centre on 18 December 1959 and adopted a constitution that was quickly approved by the parent society in London. Jones was the society’s first elected president, and Cranmer-Byng served as the editor of the journal, which produced its first volume in 1961. Topley was the driving force behind the revival of the group, but because she was young and a woman, she initially served as councillor together with James Liu, Holmes Welch, and G. B. Endacott, only later stepping into the roles of vice-president and president (“The Royal Asiatic Society” 1963; Hayes 1983).

From the start the Society formed a bridge between scholarly researchers and a wider public that includes policy makers and members of Hong Kong’s business community. The list of members as on April 1960, for example, includes a number of scholars based at The University of Hong Kong and other academic institutions, but also government servants from a variety of departments (Census, Social Welfare, Education, Chinese Affairs), employees from the American, Canadian, German, and Italian consulates and the British Council, and members of the business community affiliated with prominent Hong Kong companies and financial institutions. The HKBRAS almost immediately started publishing a journal, the first issue of which appeared in 1961, and took steps to establish a library. They also organized educational and social events for members, including a regular speaker series.

Hong Kong was a major intellectual hub for Asian studies in this period. Scholars like Chinese poetry expert, James Liu, and Holmes Welch, who published extensively on Chinese religions, lived and worked in Hong Kong, and they often addressed the society, as did Topley. The society also screened the ethnographic films of Hugh Gibb, a Hong Kong resident whose seven-part series The Borneo Story had won a Grand Prix award at the Cannes Film festival.

The growth of air travel after World War II and Hong Kong’s situation as a transportation hub for the region also meant that they were able to schedule a remarkable roster of prominent scholars to give lectures to the society. The society’s officers kept themselves well-informed of the travel plans of major scholars and invited them to speak in their public lecture series. The list of lectures held between January 1960 and May 1963, for example, includes lectures by a number of leading scholars in the growing field of Chinese studies. These included Prof. John K. Fairbank of Harvard University, who spoke on Chinese studies in the United States, Luther Carrington Goodrich of Columbia University, who lectured on the development of printing in China, and Maurice Freedman of the London School of Economics, who discussed “Social Anthropology and the Study of China” (“The Royal Asiatic Society” 1963). Because Topley was centrally involved in the organization of these events, anthropologists often addressed the society. Between 1967 and 1970, for example, Barbara E. Ward discussed her research on “Social and Economic Changes among the Boat People of Hong Kong” (1967); Hugh Baker presented a lecture on “The Chinese Lineage Village: A Pyramid of Kinship” (1969); and Graham Johnson gave a talk entitled “From Rural Committee to Spirit Medium Cult” (1969). In addition, anthropologists associated with the HKBRAS sometimes led outings to places of ethnographic interest, including Chinese vegetarian halls (led by Marjorie Topley and James Hayes; see Chapter 15 below), and temples and shrines of the Tai Ping Shan Street area (Topley and Hayes 1967d).8

---

6 Both the letter and the memo are deposited in the society’s records at the Hong Kong Public Records Office. “RAS: Founding of the Society 1959–60”, HKMS 169-1-5.
7 “The Hong Kong Branch of the Royal Asiatic Society List of Members” (April 1960), Hong Kong Public Records Office, HKMS 169-1-6. One member observed in an interview that typically there are two classes of members: Europeans who come to Hong Kong for a few years and want to learn something about Chinese society, and scholars who find the Society useful to them for making contacts.

In the 1960s and 1970s, the Society organized a number of weekend symposia for its members and sometimes published the proceedings. Topley organized several of these well-attended events and edited three volumes of proceedings: Aspects of Social Organization in the New Territories (1964b), Some Traditional Chinese Ideas and Conceptions in Hong Kong Social Life Today: Week-end Symposium, October 1966 (1967a), and Hong Kong: The Interaction of Traditions and Life in the Towns (1972). In 1969, Topley also organized a weekend symposium on “Anthropology and Sociology in Hong Kong” on behalf of The University of Hong Kong (Topley 1969). Participants included both Hong Kong residents (both academics and administrators in the Hong Kong government) and graduate students from Cornell University (Graham and Elizabeth Johnson), Columbia University (Frank Kehl), and Stanford University (John A. Young).9

---

8 Topley and Hayes’ 1967 report on temples in the Tai Ping Shan Street area of Hong Kong is not reprinted in this book, but the book in which it was published (Topley 1967a) is available from the HKBRAS and also in electronic format through the Hong Kong University Library catalog.

9 Topley’s two publications (1967a, 1972) are still available from the HKBRAS. See http://www.royalasiaticsociety.org.hk/publications/symposium_proceedings.htm
The papers and discussions recorded in the 1969 symposium offer a revealing snapshot of the research climate in Hong Kong at that time. In particular, the participants explored sensitive issues surrounding the relationship between the Hong Kong government and their academic scholarship. The graduate student researchers note that they depended on British district officers for advice and access, and also made extensive use of government documents and records in their research. These novice researchers in turn encountered the expectation that they would in turn give something back that would help guide the government as it made policy decisions.\(^{10}\) This symposium took place in 1969 — the height of the Vietnam War era — and contributors thoughtfully considered the ways in which they could make a useful contribution without compromising their scholarly goals or the confidentiality of individuals who had provided them with information (Topley 1969).

Intellectual Contribution

When the authors of works focusing on the history of anthropology treat the post-war period, they typically focus on the work of scholars like Claude Levi-Strauss, who promoted structuralism to a wide readership, or E. E. Evans-Pritchard, whose contributions to kinship studies and the anthropology of religion are highly regarded. Although contemporary readers may find much to appreciate in widely-anthologized excerpts from these scholars’ works, nonetheless those who seek to better understand the present era of globalization, migration, and social change will not find much in the way of illumination in their contributions. Indeed, in The Savage Mind (1966) Levi-Strauss famously contrasted “cold societies” that had not undergone change (a euphemism for primitive societies) with modern, progressive societies, regarding the former (and also the “primitive” in universal human mentality) as the appropriate object of anthropological analysis. In the same period, however, a small number of scholars were developing new forms of 10 In a paper entitled "Anthropology, Practicality and Policy in Hong Kong: A Governmental Point of View", for example, Kenneth Topley proposed that academic anthropologists could be useful in providing government with "guiding rules on the planning of urban development: what peoples might be expected to live harmoniously side by side with other peoples" (Kenneth Topley 1969: 56). He suggested that rather than investigating highly charged conflicts in which sides had been drawn, scholars should investigate topics that might have implications for Hong Kong’s future development, proposing as an example that they study class and status in Hong Kong (Kenneth Topley 1969).

---

anthropological theory and practice in urban centres like Singapore and Hong Kong.

Topley’s publications make contributions in three major areas of scholarly research: anthropology of religion, economic anthropology, and medical anthropology, and this anthology organizes her articles under those major headings. But other themes are threaded throughout her work. In both Singapore and Hong Kong, her ethnographic focus was on Cantonese speakers, and her research contributes to the anthropology of that important linguistic and cultural sub-ethnic group. Her research undoubtedly marks a major contribution to urban history and sociology, and her most important and influential articles are based on research done with and about women.

Perhaps her most famous work is her 1978 article on marriage resistance (Chapter 16), which scholars working in the field of gender studies still cite, and which set a standard for ethnographic research on Chinese religion and gender (see ter Haar 1992: 375). With this research Topley distinguished herself from colleagues working in the British functionalist tradition, who tended to focus on the workings of the highly normative patrilineal kinship system (see, for example, Freedman 1958; 1966). Her article examines instead an unusual group of women who appeared to defy that system by choosing not to marry, seeking autonomy from its demands. The article also touched briefly on lesbian practices among these women, which undoubtedly accounts for its ability to astonish anthropology undergraduate students decades after its first publication.

Topley’s work in the field of anthropology of religion perhaps stays closest to the British functionalist agenda, with its focus on social organization and institutional life. But there too she broke new ground. In her unpublished dissertation and also in a 1963 publication (1963a [see Chapter 9 in this book]), she documented the Great Way of Former Heaven’s organization and ideology in impressive detail. In her analysis, she combined knowledge that she derived from her observations and interviews with information that she culled from the society’s own publications, which presented a detailed historical account of their provenance. She blended information gathered through her ethnographic research in Singapore with the deft use of these rare textual sources, setting a high standard for research on Chinese religion.

In Hong Kong, Topley made original scholarly contributions to the fields of economic and urban anthropology. Her teacher at the LSE, Raymond Firth, undoubtedly instilled an appreciation for the economic dimension of social life, and in an unpublished chapter of her thesis she had investigated the economic organization of Chinese women’s vegetarian halls in impressive detail. In two articles on Hong Kong that she published in the 1960s, she provided a macro-ethnographic analysis that contrasts with her micro-sociological work, but which showed a similar erudition and facility with detail.

In an article (1964a) published in a volume that Firth edited together with B. S. Yamey (see Chapter 12 in this book), she analyzed master farmers in the New Territories, and contrasted the practices of indigenous rice farmers with those of more recent immigrants specialized in vegetable farming in light of their social organization, economic opportunity and political status. Although she attended to traditional forms of social organization like ancestral associations, she also explored the farmers’ interactions with governmental and philanthropic organizations. In her contribution to a book that I. C. Jarvie edited, Hong Kong: A Society in Transition (1969a), she provided an even broader perspective, describing Hong Kong as a society in the midst of an industrial revolution, and proposing ways to adapt the methods of social anthropology to the study of this heterogeneous, complicated urban setting (see Chapter 11). Although published more than forty years ago, these articles have a modern flavour and provide a detailed ethnographic record of a society in transition.

As a postgraduate fellow at the Centre of Asian Studies at The University of Hong Kong from 1971 to 1974, Topley shifted her focus to the new field of medical anthropology. Together with a research assistant, she interviewed Chinese and Western doctors to investigate how the two medical systems worked, seeking to learn whether they complemented each other or were opposed. She grounded her discussion in detailed empirical consideration of how people make medical choices in light of traditional interpretations of the causes and treatments of disease, but also in light of the options available to them in a complex urban environment. The approach that she adopted in this research addresses many issues that scholars still seek to address, including the issue of contact and competition between Western and Chinese medical practices.

Topley also collaborated on a research project with Dr. Constance Elaine Field, a well-known medical practitioner who founded the Department of Paediatrics at The University of Hong Kong in 1962, and who did field studies of various aspects of child rearing. One of Topley’s articles from this period focuses on the traditional Cantonese treatment for measles, a topic that she stumbled upon when her Chinese amah insisted on treating her youngest son the Chinese way when he fell ill with the disease (Topley 1970 [see Chapter 17 in this book]).

Topley’s well-known 1974 article “Cosmic Antagonisms: A Mother-Child Syndrome” was based on interviews that she conducted with women who lived in high-rise flats in Kowloon (see Chapter 18). Topley focused the paper on widely shared everyday practices and cosmological explanations that Cantonese mothers invoked when they encountered difficulties in child-rearing. Although she did not seek to promote a new theoretical or methodological agenda with this paper, nonetheless her treatment of the subject resonates with that of Pierre Bourdieu’s practice theory. In a period in which the influence of structuralism and of Lévi-Strausian style analysis was widespread, Bourdieu recommended that anthropologists focus their analysis not on structures or rules but rather on habitus, a term he used to describe the everyday habits of thought and action that guide people’s choices (see [1972] 1977).

Topley contributed this paper to a book in which Freedman addressed the larger question of whether a Chinese religion exists. In a formulation that resonates with a structuralist approach, he proposed that there were “ruling principles of ideas across a vast field of apparently heterogeneous beliefs” and “ruling principles of form and organization” across a similarly varied terrain. He further concluded that scholars seek to analyse what he termed transformations (a term that also evokes the structuralist agenda), including for example relationship between elite and popular forms (Freedman 1974: 20, 39). By contrast, Topley closely documented habits and explanations that some Western scholars label religious or cosmological but others regard as medical, focusing (like Bourdieu) on everyday practices and choice rather than principles, rules, and structures. Consequently her analysis easily accommodates the fact that the Christian women whom she interviewed offered the same explanation and remedies for difficulties in child-rearing as the non-Christians, and she goes beyond the details of her case study to convincingly identify similarities between Cantonese and Taiwanese explanations and remedies.

In her publications, Marjorie Topley proposed innovative strategies for the investigation of modern urban society. At the same time that she broke new ground for anthropology as a discipline, she also documented Chinese society in Singapore and Hong Kong in the decades leading up to the end of the British colonial period. Her essays deserve to be republished and read.

Bibliography

Topley, Kenneth. 1969. “Anthropology, Practicality and Policy in Hong Kong: A Governmental Point of View”. In Anthropology and Sociology in Hong Kong: Field Projects and Problems of Overseas Scholars. Proceedings of a Symposium
Introduction

February 8–9, 1969, comp. by Marjorie Topley, pp. 52–59. Hong Kong: Centre of Asian Studies, The University of Hong Kong.

Topley, Marjorie. Please see the complete list of her publications immediately below.

Journal of the Royal Asiatic Society Hong Kong Branch, 47.

List of Dr. Marjorie Doreen Topley’s Publications

1967a “Some Basic Conceptions and their Traditional Relationship to Society”. In Some Traditional Chinese Ideas and Conceptions in Hong Kong Social Life Today: Week-end Symposium, October 1966, ed. by Marjorie Topley, pp. 7–21. Hong Kong: Royal Asiatic Society Hong Kong Branch.

1967c (co-authored with James Hayes) “Notes on Temples and Shrines of Tai Ping Shan Street Area”. In Some Traditional Chinese Ideas and Conceptions in Hong Kong Social Life Today: Week-end Symposium, October 1966, ed. by Marjorie Topley, pp. 123–43. Hong Kong: Royal Asiatic Society Hong Kong Branch.

1968a “Chinese Religion and Rural Cohesion in the Nineteenth Century”. Journal of the Royal Asiatic Society Hong Kong Branch, 8: 9–43

A Note on Chinese Romanization

In her publications Marjorie Topley used Wade-Giles romanization, which is no longer commonly used, and also supplied Cantonese and Hokkien terms using diverse systems of romanization. She often supplemented the romanized words with Chinese characters in the text or in a glossary.

To simplify the production process of this book, Hong Kong University Press has elected not to reproduce the original diacritic marks on Cantonese terms used in Topley’s publications, which will be unfamiliar to most readers. Instead, the editor has added pinyin to the text and also supplied a Chinese glossary that includes the romanization together with characters and pinyin, which should clarify the meaning of terms cited in the text.
Index

Note: Italicized entries refer to figures. Entries containing an “n” refer to footnotes.

A
A jie. See Sisters, elder
A nai. See Wet-nurses
A soo. See Sisters-in-law
A-naai. See Wet-nurses
A-so. See Sisters-in-law
A-tee. See Sisters, elder
Abortion, 446, 492, 495, 500, 511
   Social acceptance of, 307
   Unattached women and, 438, 444
Acting profession, 60, 107. See also Theatrical companies
Acupuncture, acupuncturists, 165, 494, 495, 510, 512, 517, 542
Adoption of children, 99, 121–22, 159–60, 434–35, 439. See also Bonding rites
   By deities, 383, 465
   By monks and nuns, 127, 166–68
   By vegetarians, 116–18, 441, 443
   For horoscope mismatches, 463
   For mother-child syndrome, 480, 484, 486, 534, 535
Advances, monetary. See Loans and advances
Advertisements for medical services, 492, 494–95, 539
Afterlife, 57–64, 133, 189–90, 402
   Little Tradition beliefs on, 155, 388
   Pure Land sect beliefs, 137–38
   Relation to lifetime celibacy, 431–32
Aged care, 121, 160 n55, 198, 200, 440. See also Vegetarian halls
Alchemy, Taoist, 133, 134
Alcohol, 122, 305
Almanac, 29, 74, 372, 384, 389, 477, 483, 529
Amah Rock, New Territories, 473
Amahs, 166, 406, 407, 415
Amida Buddha (Amituofo), 115, 116, 122
Amitabha (O-mi-t’o Fu), 137, 169, 218 n56
Amitabha sutra, 137, 169
Amituofo. See Amida Buddha
Amulets, 33, 79, 383
   Cost of, 134
   For good luck, 159
   Related to disease, 451, 453, 457
   Use of paper charms (fu) in, 73–74, 76, 394
Analects, 236 n98
Ancestor tablets ("longevity" tablets), 150. See also Soul tablets, permanent Ancestor worship, 141, 150–51, 176, 182, 250, 375
   19th C. practices, 242–46, 268–70
   Pseudo-kinship involvement in, 406
   Rites for, 91–92, 336
   Terminology on, 130
   Variations in practice, 179–80, 185–86, 256, 295, 343
Ancestors, 61, 241, 479, 500
   19th C. rural China, 252
   As source of loans, 353
   Land trusts, 336–37, 429, 430
Anger, ritual release of, 400–1
Anhwei (Anhui) Province, China, 258, 259, 410
Animals, 37 n10. See also Creatures, dangerous
   Improper (xie), 531, 537
   Proscriptions on, 457
   Ritual use of; 10, 96, 98, 121, 158, 190, 435
Animating forces. See Soul
   Anniversary celebrations, 80
Anthropology. See also Medical anthropology
  Development of, 17–18
  Undergraduate study of, 3
Anti-marriage societies, 190–91. See also Marriage resistance
Antibiotics, 499, 511, 516
Anwen Die. See Declaration of Peace charm
Armour and Horse (Chia ma, Jiama) charm, 85, 87
Arsenic, medicinal, 513, 514, 544
Asceticism, 146, 160, 230, 407. See also Monks; Nuns; Sexual abstinence; Vegetarianism
Automatic writing, 262, 372
Avalokitesvara. See Guanyin
Aw Boon Haw gardens, Pasir Panjang, 137
B
Bachelor houses, 429–30
Bad luck, 11, 73, 79–80
  Influence on afterlife, 59
  Rites for, 39, 42 n14, 53, 98–99
Bagua. See Eight Diagrams charm
Bai Chu (Paai Cheoe; Prayer Away or To Get Rid of). See Prayer against the Little Man rite
Bai Xiaoren. See Prayer against the Little Man rite
Bai Zhuan Yun. See Prayers to Change Fate
Baker, Hugh, 16
Balance/imbalance. See Harmony, cosmic; Harmony, social Bangles, 460–61, 463, 535, 536
Banks, 297, 299, 301–2, 307
  1965 crisis, 328
  Commercial, 312–13, 325
  Rural branches, 345, 350
Banners, funerary (fan), 58, 66, 68, 69
Banquets, 110, 121–22, 300–1, 315, 440
Baoshou Die (Long life charm), 80, 81
Baoying dan. See Po-ying taan
“Barefoot doctors”, 540
Begging by nuns and monks, 139
Bet. See Divining blocks
Beneficence halls (Shantang), 194–95
Betrothal, 156, 438–39, 479
Big Paternal Great-Uncle. See Toa Peh Kong
Birth certificates, 492, 493
Birthday associations, 315
Birthday celebrations, 80, 285
Bishan Ting (Pi Shan T’ing) Cantonese cemetery, Singapore, 164, 168
Black-market doctors. See Medicine, Western, Illegal practitioners of Blessings, charms for, 79. See also Long life charm; Prosperity
Blood charms (xuefu), 74, 93, 96, 151–52
BMA. See British Medical Association
“Boat people” (Hakka), 332 n1, 534. See also Hakka people
Boats, paper, 29, 30, 42, 395, 397
Bodhidharma, 138, 207 n18, 221 n62
Bodhisattva (Pasar), 125, 128, 129, 222, 374, 417
  Festivals of, 190
  Spirit mediums, 152
  Vegetarianism related to, 457–58
Bodhisattva’s vow, 137
Bonding rites, 480–83
Bone-setters, 495, 510–12, 543
Bones, spiritual power (ling) of, 391
Book of Changes (I-Ching, Yijing), 134, 433
Books, 254, 308, 391
Books, religious (shanshu), 431–32
Borneo, 145, 225 n71, 410
Borneo Story, The (film), 15
Boxers, 268
Breaking Hell rite (bo diyu), 7, 8, 61–62, 64–66
Breast-feeding, 457, 471, 475, 476
Bride-price, 118, 312, 340
Bribery, 247, 305, 308–9, 319, 388
Brides, 473–74, 499–500
Index

Bridges, 47, 63–64, 249, 395, 396, 400.
See also Crossing the Bridge rite
British Medical Association (BMA), 493, 494, 501, 504, 545
Brothers. See Sons, eldest; Sons, emigrant

Bu luojia (“Women who do not go down to the family”), 110, 423, 437, 439–42, 445–46
Bubonic plague, 472, 509
Colours and numbers associated with, 218
Festivals of, 215–18, 408, 417
Incarnations of, 131, 259
Places of worship, 125, 129
Pure Land School beliefs on, 138
Sign of (jie yin), 67–68
Buddha of the Burning Lamp. See Dipamkara
Buddha Saviour of Hell (Dizang Wang), 89, 91
Buddha’s Hand (charm), 90, 91
Buddha’s Pagoda prayer sheets, 88, 91
Buddha’s Ship of Salvation prayer sheets, 91
Buddhism, Buddhists, 122–23, 130, 155, 158, 372, 401
Beliefs on spirits, 374
Conception of man and nature, 531–33
Connexion to other great religions, 132–33, 137–38
Conversion to other faiths, 180
Esoteric sects (See Sectarian religion)
Influence on Hong Kong society, 297
Influence on popular religion, 132–33, 136–40, 230, 388
Influence on sectarian religion, 144–47, 258, 408, 417
Influence on traditional medicine, 451, 461, 466
Institutionalization of, 178–79
Member activities, 263, 290
Modern developments, 140, 196–200, 256
Organization of, 192 n46
Patriarchs, 138–39, 160
Sects, 139, 170 (See also Chan Meditation School; Pure Land Sect of the “Greater Vehicle”; Tung Shan She sect)
Tantric practices, 409
Women’s halls (See Vegetarian halls: Buddhist)
Buddhist Association of China, 140
Buddhist associations/halls, 180, 195, 199–200
Buddhist Federation, Singapore, 129, 140, 148–49
Buddhist paradise. See Pure Land
Burg Wartenstein conferences, 13
Burial of the dead, 59, 121, 122. See also Cemeteries
Burning of Paper Things/Objects rite, 59, 62, 70, 71
Bushel Mother goddess (Taoist), 222 n67
Business and industry, 288, 291, 292, 300, 308, 324–29. See also Factories; Industrialization
Financing of, 306–7, 311–13 (See also Credit system; Loans and advances)
Influence of religious beliefs on, 297
Investment in, 302–3, 312–13, 319, 323–26, 358
New Territories development, 343
Recruitment for, 286
Socially disapproved practices, 307–10
Western, 297
C
Calendar, Chinese, 74. See also Propitious days; Horoscopes
Index

Calling Back the Soul rite (Kiū Keng, Jiao Jing), 47–50, 467–69
Cancer, 499, 515
Candles, 50, 76, 400
Ritual use of, 31–32, 36, 44–45, 54, 64–65, 393
Temple sale of, 156
Cantonese dialect, 183 n22, 275–76, 485, 486
Popular religious texts, 373
Romanization of, 29 n2, 446 n3
Spoken in Hong Kong, 491
Topley’s proficiency in, 5
Use on paper charms, 393
Cantonese people, 18–20, 164, 194
Demographic information, 333–34
Interaction with other dialect groups, 116
Rites for the dead, 191–92
Cars, 300, 304, 344
Cash, wealth held in, 299, 305, 321, 348–49. See also Money
Catholicism. See Roman Catholicism
Celibacy. See Sexual abstinence
Cemeteries, 5, 184, 185, 192–93, 304, 306, 311, 338. See also Burial of dead; Graves
Centre for Asian Studies, The University of Hong Kong, 12 n5, 19
Ceremonial obligations, 311, 314, 320, 321. See also Social obligations
Certificates (paper charms), 42, 43, 57, 83
Chai t’ang. See Vegetarian halls
Ch’an (Zen) Meditation School, 138–39, 207–9, 225, 407
19th C. rural China, 259
Origin of, Taoist beliefs, 214 n46
Patriarchs, 146, 160, 207 n18
Chang Dao Ling or Chang Ling. See Zhang Daoling
Chang Ling. See Zhang Daoling
Chang T’ien Shih. See Zhang Daoling
Changing fate rite, 39
Chanting fellows. See Nam-mo-lo
Chaozhou dialect. See Tiuchiu dialect
Chaozhou people. See Tiuchiu people
Chap-ji-kee (game), 143
Characters of birth. See Eight characters of birth
Charity. See Philanthropy
Charms, paper, 73–96, 125, 136, 393–400, 531. See also Blood charms; Certificates; Edicts; Mandates; Money, paper; Pardon, tablets of; Prayer sheets, Buddhist. See also specific charms or images
Burning of, 33, 41, 47, 57, 74–75, 84, 85, 87, 91, 102–3, 393–94
Colours of, 44, 74
Dedicated to a temple deity, 46
Fastened above doors, 76, 77, 79, 87–88
Fastened to walls, 76, 394
For fertility, 394
For long life, 31, 48–49
For prosperity, 31, 33, 44, 48–49
For protection, 31, 79
For tranquility, 48–49
Great Way of Former Heaven use of, 216
Hand-written, 86, 88
Manufacture and sale of, 76
Medicinal, 55–56, 75–76, 88, 134, 394, 453, 510
“Opening” of, 74
Printing and sale of, 73–77, 121, 156
Types of, 73–75
Use in divination, 35–36
Use in festivals, 122–23
Use in occasional rites, 32–35, 40, 44, 451
Wood-block printing of, 41, 86, 88, 93, 94
Charms, wooden, 76, 79, 92
Ch’en Tso Mien Tang (Ch’en Zuo Mian Tang) vegetarian hall, Singapore, 131
Chen Zuo Mian Tang (Ch’en Tso Mien Tang) vegetarian hall, Singapore, 131
Chia ma charm. See Armour and Horse charm
Chickenpox, 456, 539
Childbirth, 194, 440, 479
Beliefs on, 471–72, 532
Difficulties during, 471, 478, 483–86 (See also Mother-child syndrome)
Fear of, 436–37
Mortality rates, 484, 486, 497
Postpartum adjustment period, 472–82
Purification customs, 165
Rites related to, 56, 431–32, 476–77
Children, 50. See also Adoption of children; Newborns
Abuse and neglect of, 465, 532
Bonding to outside individuals or entities (k’ai-kwoh, qiguo), 431, 480–81
Charms for, 80
Dangerous times/barriers (kwaan, guan), 384, 389, 395, 534
Death of, 99, 461, 465, 467, 475, 483, 513, 532, 538
Disabilities in, 480, 484
Disorders in, 2, 477–83, 498–99, 526, 534–40 (See also Haak-ts’an; Measles)
Drawing a spirit of the dead (loh-kwai tsai, liugui zi), 483, 532, 538
“Expensive” (gui) fate, 477
Influence of fate on, 383, 476–79, 481 (See also Eight characters of birth; Horoscopes)
Male, 185, 340 (See also Sons, eldest)
Mortality rates, 505
Naming of, 386
Proscription on eating of food offered to gods, 36
Relationship with parents, 479, 485–86 (See also Mother-child syndrome)
Rites involving, 29–40, 54–55, 154, 383, 386, 389, 537 (See also Clearing the Way on Reaching the Bridge rite)
Souls, 460–61
Vulnerability to evil spirits, 29
China, 76, 279, 284, 292
Classes, terminology on, 295
History, 160–61, 182, 216, 234
Inheritance laws, 108
Social structure, 449
China, Government of. See also People’s Republic of China
Concubinage, legislation on, 111
Dynastic system, 74, 387 (See also specific dynasties)
Great Way of Former Heaven beliefs on, 213–14
Influence on Chinese popular religion, 197–98
Mandate from Heaven, 195–96, 235
Oversight of medical professions, 506
State religion, 140, 176 n4 (See also State cults)
China Buddhist Association, 140
Chinese language, 183
Dialects, 108
Romanization of, 24, 73 n1, 125 n3, 172–74, 202, 240, 446 n3
Wade system, 365 n1
Ching Ming. See Food offerings, ritual: Cleaning of Graves rite. See also Graves: Cleaning of Christ, 196, 198
Christianity, Christians, 20, 180, 196, 236, 297, 307, 471–72, 476, 483
Cinema. See Films
City God temple, Singapore, 97, 99, 101
City of London College, 3
Clans, 128–29, 243–46, 312, 370. See also Lineage/clan associations
Class system, 281, 294–96
Clearing the Way on Reaching the Bridge rite (Hoi Kwaan To K’an; Kaiguan Daoqiao), 46–47
Clinics Ordinance (Hong Kong), 513
Cloth bundles, paper, 30, 32
Clothes
Financing of, 349
Purification of during rites, 34
Ritual use of, 45–47, 68, 386, 395, 464, 467
“Cloud cities” (yun cheng), 216, 222
Co-operatives, agricultural, 110, 349–50, 355–56. See also Pork societies
Coats, paper, 30, 42, 50, 54, 122, 394, 395
Cock God, 531, 538
Coffins, 304
Colds, 55, 460, 498, 540
Colleges, Chinese, 317
Colonialism, British. See Hong Kong
Colonial Government
Colours, 29 n5, 44, 50, 74, 217, 218, 232–33
Commerce. See Business and industry
Communism, 281
Communist China. See People’s Republic of China
Communist Party, China, 12
Communist Party, Malaya. See Malayan Races Liberation Army (MRLA)
Complete Purity (Quanzhen) School of Taoism, 135–36
Concupiscence, concubines (ts’ip, qie), 99, 107, 111–12, 116, 390 n9, 434, 436, 440–44, 484
Confession of sins, 135
Confucianism, 146, 199, 287, 292, 368–69, 417
Beliefs on Heaven, 374
Beliefs on man and nature, 532
Beliefs on marriage, 423–24
Beliefs on sexual abstinence, 219
Connexion to other great religions, 133, 161
Cosmology, 372–74
Ethics, 134, 141
Influence on popular religion, 133, 141, 147, 197
Influence on traditional medicine, 472
Places of worship, 129, 249–50
Relation to syncretic religions, 145, 205, 417
Confucius, 133, 218 n56
Analects, 236 n98
Consumer goods
As a source of prestige, 299–301, 319–20, 344, 348
Rural versus urban attitudes towards, 344
Use in rites for the dead, 57
Contraception. See Abortion; Family planning
Convents. See Nunneries
Cornell University, 13, 16
Cosmology, 133, 367–69, 371–74, 473, 538
19th C. beliefs, 241, 252, 262
Buddhist beliefs, 531–33
Compatibility of secular and non-secular beliefs, 509–10
I Guan Dao (I-kwan Tao) sect beliefs, 236
Relation to traditional medicine, 451, 471–73, 507–8, 528–31, 536
Cost of living, 303–4
Coupons (paper charms). See Certificates (paper charms)
Cranmer-Byng, Jack, 14–15
Creatures, dangerous, 42, 42 n14, 44, 79, 395
Credentials (die, paper charms), 80–81, 393. See also Honourable men
Credit system, 285, 293, 305, 339, 346–47, 351–52. See also Loans and advances
Credit unions, 286 n22
Cremation, 122
Crime, 40, 59, 268, 292–93, 305, 308, 336, 436, 479. See also Secret societies
Cross-roads. See Road junctions
Crossing the Bridge rite (Kwoh hsin ch’iao, Guo xianqiao), 62, 68–69, 189
Crown land, New Territories, 338
Cultural associations, 179, 181, 198, 317
Cultural diseases. See Diseases and disorders: Culture-bound
Index

| Cultural institutions, Western. See Western culture | Occupation-based, 441 |
| Culture, beliefs on, 531–32 | Ritual practices associated with, 178 |
| Culture, preservation of, 187–88, 198 | Vegetarian halls’ management of, 112–13 |
| Cymbals, 66 | Death certificates, 492, 493 |
| D | “Death Houses”, 70, 101–2, 121, 122, 166 |
| Da beichan. See Repentance, rite of Da Dao. See “Great Way” | Conduct of research in, 5, 11 |
| Daho Gong. See Toa Peh Kong | Role of, 59–60, 62–63 |
| Danan guan (Houses of Big Difficulties). See “Death Houses” | Debt, 285, 312. See also Credit system; Loan associations; Loans and advances |
| Dancing, 65–66 | Declaration of Peace (Anwen Die) charm, 80, 81 |
| Dancing girls, 107 | Deities (shàn, shēn), 149, 191–92, 198, 371–73, 467, 508, 531. See also Festivals; Local cults; Religion, popular (Little Tradition); Shrines; Spirit mediums |
| Danger, 87. See also Troubles | Acquisition of characteristics of, 222 |
| Dangerous Drugs Ordinance (Hong Kong), 492, 493, 505, 511, 513 | Activities of, 73–74, 241, 365–68, 383–84, 386 |
| Dangerous times. See Transitions | Agricultural, 176 |
| Dào. See Tao | As source of affliction, 387, 390–91, 395, 453, 454, 473 |
| Daoism. See Taoism | Bonding to children, 463, 481, 482 |
| Daoyuan, 197–99 | Buddhist worship of, 116, 129–30 |
| Daughters | Celestial system of government (god-officials), 248–52, 376, 386–87 |
| Adoption of, 118, 434 | Comparison between Malaya and China, 147 |
| Financial contribution to family, 320 | Confucian, 141, 376 |
| Infanticide of, 426 | Depiction on charms, 80 |
| Inheritance customs for, 310 | Great Way of Former Heaven beliefs, 144, 417 |
| Relations with family of origin, 59, 311, 485 | Indigenous Chinese, 136–37 |
| Daughters, bonded (k’ài-nü, qìniniü), 480 | Origins (elevation) of, 141–43, 147, 155, 222, 374–76 |
| Daughters-in-law, 498 | Raising up of (rite), 39, 53 n19 |
| Dazhai. See Paying Respects rite | Relation to children with measles, 457 |
| Death, 180, 368. See also Inheritance customs; Rites for the dead; Spirits of the dead | Seals, 393 |
| Beliefs on, 368, 374–76, 386–87, 401–2, 460–61 | Taoist, 114–16, 129, 135, 218 n56, 376 |
| By drowning, 158 | Terminology on, 125 n1, 374 |
| Customs related to disease, 455, 457 | Of children (See Children, Death of) Of elderly person, 71 |
| Of children (See Children, Death of) | Purification customs, 73, 76, 165 |
Worship of, 51–52, 125, 132, 153, 157–59

Yang nature of, 390, 473

Depression, 389, 475

Destiny. See Fate

Devils. See Spirits (demons)

Dialect-based associations, 177, 181–84, 191, 193. See also Territorial/dialect associations

Die. See Credentials

Dildoes, 433

Dipamkara (Randeng Fo; Buddha of the Burning Lamp), 215, 217, 218, 222, 232

Directions. See Five directions

Disabled persons, 164, 480, 484

Disasters, natural, 431

Diseases and disorders, 42 n15, 56, 476 n2, 499, 513, 539, 545. See also Emotional disturbances; Epidemics; Haak-ts'an; Measles

Causes of, 453, 477–78, 483, 498–500, 527–40

Charms for, 56, 73–75, 87

Contagious (K'ei-peng, qibing), 475, 492, 497

Culture-bound, 514–15, 539, 545

Impact on families, 108, 486

In children (See Children, Disorders in)

Influence of cosmic forces on, 365, 371, 383, 472–73

Influence of spirits on, 383, 401

“Modern”, 497

Moral aspects of, 401, 538

“Poisonous” (tuk, du) and “non-poisonous”, 472–74, 499, 508

“Queer”, 474

Rites for, 27–50, 54–55, 73–76, 151–52, 156–57, 395–96, 526 (See also Lifting the Influence rite)

Social origin of, 509–10

Terminology on, 450

Treatment of, 133, 257, 450, 452–53, 456, 481, 526, 531–33

Distributing Flowers rite (Sanhua), 62, 69–70

District associations, 190–191

Divination, 365, 382, 437, 473, 482, 529. See also Horoscopes

Eight Diagrams system, 215

Fees for, 157

History of, 141

Ritual practices, 40, 74, 79

Role in diagnosing illness, 29

Scholars' involvement in, 370–72, 377

Source of income for vegetarian halls, 123

Symbols, 151

Temple practices, 156–58

Use of plants in, 50–51

Use of wood blocks in (See Divining blocks)

Divining blocks (bei), 34–35, 37, 45, 154, 156–57

Dizang Wang (Buddha Saviour of Hell), 89, 91

Djamour, Judith. See Freedman, Judith

Djamour

Doctors, traditional. See Herbalists

Doctors, Western (sai-i, xiyi), 516–17, 534. See also Medicine, Western

Emigration of, 494

Illegal, 504–5, 513, 543–44

Private practice, 493–94

Protection from prosecution, 513

Registration of (Hong Kong), 493–94, 500–4, 515, 524

Use of traditional medicine by, 514–15, 526

Dogs, 61, 457, 458, 531

Dong Wangkung (Royal Lord of the East), 82, 87

Dormitories. See Bachelor houses; Girls’ houses

“Double happiness”, 473

Dowries, 109, 440. See also Bride-price

Dragon Boat festival, 544

Dragon Flower sect (Longhua Men), 206 n12

Dreams, 101, 506. See also Nightmares

Drugs, illegal, 257, 500. See also Opium
Index

Drums, 66, 93
Duo. See Diseases and disorders: “Poisonous”
Ducks, 63, 68–69, 456
“Dying Houses”. See “Death Houses”
Dynasties, 222. See also individual dynasties

E
Eagles, 44, 531
Earth. See Heaven and Earth
Earth God (Tudi Gong), 37, 122, 135, 142, 155, 249, 400
Earthly branches. See Horoscopes:
Sixty-year cycle
Earthly cycles (Great Way of Former Heaven sect), 215–18, 222, 232–36, 408, 417
Economy, 199–200, 323–24, 329
Edicts (jian; charms), 74, 393
  19th C. rural China, 244, 250, 268–69
  Investment in, 179, 300, 311, 343–44, 349
  Of daughters, 300, 343–44
  Public examinations, 287, 288
  Relation to wealth and status, 316–17, 319, 334, 372
  Western style, 179, 294
Effigies, paper, 28, 394, 397, 402
  Ritual use of, 62–63, 386, 395
  Use in ghost marriages, 101–3
Eggs, 36, 37, 45, 64
Eight characters of birth, 29, 74, 156, 371, 382–84, 391, 478–79
Eight Diagrams (Bagua) charm, 79, 80, 81
Eight Diagrams sect, 265
Elder care. See Aged care
Elements. See Five basic elements
Elevating T’ai Sui rite. See Raising up Tai Seou rite
Elliott, Alan, 5
Emotional disturbances, 498–99, 509–10, 517
Emperors
  Position in Chinese popular religion, 248
  Rule by “heaven’s decree”, 146 n35
  Worship of, 125 n1, 130 (See also Deities; and individual names of emperors)
Employment. See also Business and industry; Occupations; Women, Employment
  Cottage industries, 437
  Impact of industrialization on, 109–10, 320–21, 428
  Influence on family solidarity, 292, 296
  Role of associations in, 200
English language, 179
English people in Hong Kong, 275 n1, 304
Enlightenment, Buddhist, 137, 139, 161
Entertainment, 300–1, 352
Environmental disturbances. See Miasmata
Epidemics, 371, 497, 509, 544
Esoteric sects. See Sectarian religion
Ethers, impersonal, 367–67. See also Yin and yang
Ethics, 297, 506
Ethnography, 18, 19
European Conference Center, Burg Wartenstein, Austria, 13
Evil influences, 84, 100, 384, 395
Evil spirits. See Spirits (demons)
  See also Zhang Taoling
Experts, ritual, 192, 252, 269, 374, 378, 463, 468. See also Monks, Buddhist;
  Nuns, Buddhist; Priests; Vegetarians
  Association with temples, 28, 392
  Knowledge of charm lore, 73, 74
  Payment for services, 305, 306
  Role in treatment of disorders, 526, 541
  Services provided, 52, 121, 164, 166–67, 171, 391–92
  “External”, terminology on, 529–30
External Classic (Waijing), 530
“Extreme”. See “Strangeness” theory
Eye diseases, 491, 505, 513, 544

F
Fa Yi Paau. See Flowery Coats Packet
Fa-meng. See Horoscopes: Mother’s “flower fate”
Fa-wong foo-mo (huawang fumu, Mother and Father Gardener), 476, 484–85
Face, loss of, 59, 61–62, 320. See also Social status
Factories, 303, 324, 428
Family, 88, 108, 157, 413–14. See also specific family members
Conflict in, 73, 82, 343
Confucian beliefs on, 141, 369
Harmony of forces on, 370, 486, 532
Impact on social status, 308, 317
Income from members abroad, 320, 344, 348, 350–51, 359–60
Influence on economic values/behaviour, 281, 283–86, 292, 322–34, 348
Joint families, 107–9, 338, 341
Organization of, 281–86, 296, 484–85
Rituals related to, 189–91
Terms of address within, 484
Family, spiritual. See Pseudo-kinship relations
Family businesses, 306, 322–24
Family planning, 439–40, 511. See also Abortion
Fan. See Banners, funerary
Farmers, 178, 284–85, 331–61. See also Rice farmers; Vegetable farmers
Fate. See also Eight characters of birth; Karma; Horoscopes; Plant of life;
Prayers to Change Fate
19th C. beliefs on, 241
Adoption by Mother goddess to overcome, 431
“Inexpensive fate” (kui mia, guiming), 477
Influence on health, 506
Influences on, 383–86, 391, 436
Non-marrying (blind), 432–33, 437, 439
Of souls, 467 (See also Afterlife)
Terminology on, 491–82
“Fate money”, 39, 46
Fathers, role of, 32, 283, 322–23
Fear
Incantations against (Haam-king, hanjing, “calling out (against) fear”), 464, 535–38
Objects of, 460, 464, 465–66
Fei Hsia Tsing She (Feixia Qingshe) vegetarian hall, 130, 131, 164, 414
Female principle. See Yin and yang
Feng-shui (geomancy), 360, 370, 411, 415–16, 515. See also under Graves
In agricultural communities, 345
Influence on economic values/behaviour, 290, 304, 334
Role in traditional medicine, 510, 529
Scholars’ involvement in, 372
Terminology on, 531
Fertility, 73, 427, 483. See also Long-life, prosperity, fertility triad
Charms for, 85, 87
Rites for, 55–56, 80 (See also Surrounding the Garden rite)
Festival associations, 189, 193–94, 352
Festivals, 76, 128, 157–59, 418–19
19th C., 184–85, 249, 251–52
Celebration in nunneries, 118, 169
Celebration in vegetarian halls, 122–23, 165
Financing of, 352
Gambling at, 344
Rites performed at, 27, 73, 80, 84, 87–88, 150, 381
Variety of, 147, 256
Women’s attendance at, 430
Index

Fevers, 47–50, 539
Field, Constance Elaine, 19
Filial piety, 141, 286, 302, 497–98
Films, 15, 201, 323–24, 443
Financial management, 312, 434–44, 348. See also Credit system; Loans and advances
Fire Official (deity), 79
Firth, Raymond, 2, 3, 13, 18–19, 490–91
Fishing industry, 426–28, 445
Five basic elements (wuxing; five agents), 365, 367–68, 371, 462, 528
Cosmic theory of, 538
Relation to horoscopes, 53
Relation to traditional medicine, 476, 451–52, 498
Role in Great Way of Former Heaven administration, 223, 409
Transliteration issues re, 449 n3
“Five Bushel” Taoism, 134–35
Five demons (ng-kwa, wu gui), 531
Five directions, 222
Floods, 31, 408
Flower fates, 476
Flowers, 45, 51, 52, 69–70, 150
Flowery Coats Packet (Fa Yi Paau, Hua yi bao), 54
Flowery Tower charm, 54–55
Foetuses, 475, 483–84
Folk religion. See Religion, popular (Little Tradition)
Folk tales, 376, 377
Food, 300, 308. See also Vegetarianism
As payment for services, 305
Expenditures on, 313, 314
For pregnancy and childbirth, 475
“Hot” and “cold”, 456
Medicinal use of, 453, 455–57, 474–75, 499, 510–11
To restore or maintain balance, 477, 534, 535
Food offerings, ritual, 28–29, 32, 45–46, 156, 159
At festivals, 419
Cleaning of Graves rite (Ching Ming, Qingming), 122

Ghost marriage rites, 102
Occasional rites, 36, 45, 71, 393, 395
Rites for the dead, 63, 66–68, 150
Foot binding, 109, 426, 435, 445
Freedman, Judith Djamour, 3, 11
Freedman, Maurice, 3, 11, 12, 13, 16, 20
Friendship, 305. See also Social obligations
Charms re, 80, 81
Economic aspects of, 297, 312
Sealed through ghost marriage, 99
Frigidity, sexual, 437
Fruit farming, 332. See also Mulberry culture
Fu, 73–74, 87–88. See also Charms, paper
Fude Zhengshen, 142
Fujian (Fukian) Province, China, 33, 52, 175
19th C., 251, 258
Chinese dialects, 5, 183 n22, 276, 485
Return of emigrants to, 288
Role of women in the economy, 109, 445
Syncretic religions, 196
Triad societies’ activity, 186, 266
Fujian (Hokkien) dialect, 5, 183 n22, 276, 485
Fujianese (Hokkien) people, 28, 136, 145, 151, 153, 184
Child-rearing practices, 473, 477
Festivals, 157–58
Interaction with other dialect groups, 116
Mediumship, 391 n10
Ritual practices of, 59, 75, 87, 97, 99, 191–92
Funeral benefit schemes. See Death benefit societies
Fung-shui. See Feng-shui
Future cycle. See Earthly cycles
G
Gambling, 309, 344, 348–50, 358, 481
Games, 143
Gangs, 201. See also Triad societies
Gate rite. See Passing through the Gate rite
Gender, Pure Land sect beliefs on, 115, 254
Genealogies, 168
19th C. rural China, 244
Master-disciple pseudo-kinship relations, 192 n46, 228, 254–55, 257
Traditional medical practitioners, 451–52
General Medical Council, Great Britain, 493, 501
Gentry, 246–47, 292–95, 297–98, 301, 320
Care for unmarried daughters, 441
Economic values/behaviour of, 283, 287–88
Resistance to British rule, 428
Geomancy. See Feng-shui
Ghost marriages (Yinqu), 95, 97–103, 130, 402, 434–35
Charms used for, 80
Conduct of research on, 11
Material apparatus, 80, 82, 94, 100–2
Ghosts (gui; kuei), 368, 374–75. See also Hungry Ghosts; Spirits (demons); Spirits of the dead
Gibb, Hugh, 15
Gibson-Hill, Carl A., 11
Gift giving, 312–14, 344, 348
Impact on assessments of wealth, 318
In Chinese-Western relationships, 305
In religious rites, 401
Gilds, 176 n3, 178
Girls' houses, 109, 432, 440, 445–46
God of War (Kuan Ti; Guandi), 137, 141, 154, 188.
God-Who-Protects-the-Family, 85, 87
Goddess of Light/Dawn (Zhunti), 91, 418
Goddess of Mercy. See Guanyin
Gods and goddesses. See Deities
Gods of the Twelve Constellations, 84, 87
Gods of the year, 39. See also Minister/Ministry of Time
Going through the Barrier rite, 384
Going through the Gate rite. See Passing through the Gate rite
Gold, 299–300, 305, 321, 344, 462
Gold and silver bullion, paper, 30, 31
Golden Flower Mother goddess (Jin Hua Mo, Kam Fa Mo), 376, 377, 383, 385, 395, 484–85
Golden Mother goddess (Jinmu), 55–56, 128, 144, 216, 376
Great Way of Former Heaven beliefs, 214, 216–17, 232
Names for, 417–18
Rites involving, 51–52, 236, 237
Spiritual adoption of children by, 431
Sutras, 221 n62
Terms of address, 214, 236–37
Golden Mother of the Yao Pool (Yao Ch'ih Chin Mu, Yaochi Jinmu), 144, 417
Golden Orchid Associations (Jinlan Hui), 432–34, 433
Golden tablets (Jinpai; charms), 78–79, 393
Goldsmiths, 184
Gongs, 66
Good luck, 70, 71, 386 n5, 394. See also Long-life, prosperity, fertility triad; Prosperity
Amulets for, 159
Charms for, 80, 395
New Year customs, 40 n11
Rites for, 178, 481–82
Good Omen paper (charm), 31–33, 45, 47, 50, 395
Goodness halls. See Benevolence halls
Gossip, 31, 40, 386, 389
Grandfathers, 446
Grandfathers, bonded (k'ai-ye, qiye), 480–81
Index

Grandmothers, 32, 34, 35, 446, 457
Grands, adoption of, 97–98
Grass, amulets from, 457
Graves, 192
  19th C. religious practices, 243, 249
  Cleaning of (Qingming, ), 91, 122, 163, 164
  Feng-shui of, 345–46, 370
  Inscriptions on, 188
  Property rights on, 296
  Sacred (keramat), 158, 159
  Siting of, 365
Great Saint. See Monkey God (Great Saint)
Great Tradition (religion), 373, 376–77
  “Great Way” (Da Dao), 213, 214
Great Way of Former Heaven (Xiantian Da dao) ranks, 219–31, 236, 259–63, 407, 413–14
  Women’s ranks, 162 n63, 407
  Wu-gung (Five Lords), 211, 222–24, 227, 228
Great Way of Former Heaven (Xiantian Da dao) sects, 1–2, 18, 127–28, 143–44, 193, 236 n99, 412. See also Ideological associations; Kuei-ken Men; Vegetarian halls
  Administration, 147, 223–24, 261–64, 267 n52, 409
  Beliefs, 144–47, 203, 207 n17, 213–18, 238, 376 n10, 407–9, 431
  Branches, 145–46, 164, 203–40, 260–61, 409, 412, 417–18 (See also Tung Shan She sect)
  Heaven’s Mandate for patriarchs, 206–7
  History of, 160–61, 204–8, 211–12, 407, 430–31
  Inner and outer sects, 205–10, 232–33, 235–38
  Institutionalization of, 178–79
  Master-disciple pseudo-kinship relations, 128, 213, 228–29, 259–61, 260, 264, 269
  Meetings, 218, 219 n62, 232 n83
  Member requirements, 219–20, 227, 229–30, 432, 436, 444
  Names associated with, 206, 211, 217, 231–35
  Non-vegetarian sects, 260
  Organization of, 267 n52
  Patriarchs (zu), 160–61, 211–12, 221 n62, 222 n67, 227, 232–33, 259, 261, 263, 267 n52, 409
  Possible connexion to White Lotus Society, 234–35
  Relationships with other religious groups, 231, 236–38
  Rites, 263
  Sources of income, 128 (See also Sin Tin Taoism Association Ltd.)
  Spread of, 226–27, 234–35, 261, 410
  Supernatural powers of, 222
  Sutras, 259, 416–17
  “Grinding bean curd” (mo doufu). See Lesbianism
Guan. See Kwaan
Guandi. See God of War
Guangdong Province, 275, 393, 415, 450, 471, 491. See also Marriage resistance; Shun-te (Shunte) district, Kwangtung Province
  19th C., 246–47, 258
  Chinese dialects, 183 n22, 276
  Economy of, 109–10, 284–85, 426, 445
  Emigration from, 76, 175, 288, 323, 331, 428–29
  Funeral practices, 60
  Geography of, 426
  History of, 135, 213 n38, 411, 428
  Lineage groups, 426
  Old age supports, 442
  Religious practices, 27–28, 168–69, 376
  Separation of sexes, 427–28
  Triad societies’ activity, 186, 266
  Vegetarian halls, 164, 255, 414
Guangong (Kuan-kung) temple, 188
Index

Guanyin (Kuan Yin), 115–16, 118, 128, 154, 222, 431
Depiction on prayer sheets, 138
Festivals, 122, 156, 158, 169, 194, 406
Identification of Mother goddess with, 417–18
Incarnations of, 222 n67
Invocation in rites for the dead, 66
Places of worship for, 35, 36, 87, 130, 441
Rites for, 170
Role in underworld, 390
Six forms of, 144
Guanyin Tang. See Kuan Yin T’ang
Gui ("expensive") fate of children, 477
Gui (ghosts). See Ghosts
Guigen (Return to the Void/Root), 214, 217, 368
Guigen Men. See Kuei-ken Men
Guilt, feelings of, 401
Guiming. See Fate: "Expensive fate”
Guiren. See Honourable men
Guiren luma. See Honourable men
Guo xianqiao. See Crossing the Bridge rite
Guoguan. See Passing through the Gate rite
Guomindang (Kuomintang), 509, 512, 544
Gupo wu (spinsters’ houses), 440–41

H
Beliefs on, 450, 453–54
Treatment for, 462, 476, 536
Haam-king. See Fear: Incantations against
Hainanese dialect, 183 n22
Hainanese people, 142–43, 184, 198
Hairdressing ritual. See Tzu-shu nü
Hakka dialect, 183 n22
Hakka people, 28, 160, 276, 334–35, 340–41, 418, 450. See also “Boat people” (Hakka)
Child-rearing practices, 526
Interaction with other dialect groups, 116
Practice of ghost marriages among, 101
Research on, 332 n1
Second-generation immigrants, 163
Hanjing. See Fear: Incantations against Hankow (Hankou), China, 233, 238, 262
Harmony, cosmic, 365, 368, 377, 462, 486, 532. See also Yin and yang
Changes in, 457–58, 463 (See also Transitions)
Compatibility of secular and non-secular beliefs, 509–10
External balance (See Mystical science)
Factors promoting, 498–99
Great Way of Former Heaven beliefs, 214
Internal balance (See Quasi-science)
Reasons for imbalance, 528–29, 544, 473
Relation to health, 371, 468–69, 498–99, 509–10, 531–37
Taoist beliefs on, 368–70, 506
Harmony, social, 431
Harvest, charms for, 87
Headaches, rites for. See Lifting the Influence rite
Health. See also Diseases and disorders
Charms for, 88
Influence of cosmic forces on, 383 (See also Harmony, cosmic)
Represented on plant of life, 50–51, 391
Taoist concern with, 369
Health care. See Medical system, Hong Kong
Heat (it; re) and cold (leung, liang) theory, 455–56, 477, 539
Relation to haak-ts’an, 461
Relation to health and illness, 474–75, 498–99, 528, 534
Relation to measles, 455–46
Yin and yang qualities, 508
Index

Heaven, Earth and Man society, 513
Heaven and Earth, 365, 367, 369–70, 376, 382, 528, 538
   As source of disease, 472, 473
   Compatibility of secular and non-secular beliefs, 509–10
   Confucian beliefs on, 369, 374
   Deities associated with, 83, 374
   Effect on social relationships and material success, 478
   Great Way of Former Heaven beliefs, 213
   Role in marriage, 479
   Taoist beliefs on, 135, 368–69
   Heaven and Earth League (Hong Men).
   See Triad societies
Heavenly Dog, 36, 42 n14
Heavenly Mother. See Golden Mother goddess
Heavenly stems. See Horoscopes: Sixty-year cycle
Hei Faan. See Lifting the Influence rite
Hell. See Afterlife
“Hell bank notes”. See Money, paper
Herbalists (traditional medical practitioners), 456, 472–73, 492–93, 534. See also Medicine, traditional Associations, 491, 512–13
   Government regulation of, 495, 505–10, 513, 517
   Illegal Western doctors’ use of term, 495–96, 504–5, 524
   Income, 541–42
   Membership in Triad societies, 513
   Payment for services, 305, 306
   Specialists, 529 (See also Acupuncture; Bone-setters)
   Standards of practice, 454, 506, 510, 512
   Statistics on, 495
   Training, 495, 542–43, 545
   Use of Western medicines and technology, 495, 510–12, 524
Heroes, deified, 130, 136–37, 141, 153, 247. See also Deities
Hinayana Buddhism (“Lesser Vehicle”), 137, 139, 180, 198
HKBRAS. See Royal Asiatic Society
   Hong Kong Branch
HKCMA. See Hong Kong Chinese Medical Association
HKMA. See Hong Kong Medical Association
Hoi Kwaan To K’iu. See Clearing the Way on Reaching the Bridge rite
Hokkien dialect. See Fujian (Hokkien) dialect
Hokkien people. See Fujianese (Hokkien) people
Homeostasis, theory of. See Harmony, cosmic
Homes, 27–28
Homosexuality, 481
Hong (Society). See Triad societies
Hong Kong, 145, 167, 276, 313–14, 489–90
   Censuses, 278, 338, 339, 491, 497
   Chinese dialects spoken, 275–76
   Contact with Westerners, 297–99, 321, 327–28
   District administration, 333–34, 410–11
   Economy, 279–81, 291–93, 312, 316, 327–29, 332 n1, 497
   Education levels, 497–98
   Geography of, 304, 333
   Great Way of Former Heaven sect activity in, 410–12
   Heterogeneity of society, 275–77
   Housing survey, 275 n2, 278
   Immigration to, 276–78, 280–81, 293, 295–97, 326, 333, 429, 443
   Indigenous people, 333
   Inheritance laws and customs, 335
   Mortality rates, 497
   Need for medical practitioners, 492–93, 496–97
   Research on, 277–79, 449–50
   Social structure, 276, 295, 318–19, 329 (See also “Hong Kong families”)
   Taxes, 318
Topley’s career in, 1–2, 11–14, 18–19 (See also Royal Asiatic Society Hong Kong Branch)
Urbanization of, 331, 497
Hong Kong Chinese Medical Association (HKCMA), 493, 495, 513, 544
Hong Kong Colonial Government, 4, 14, 319, 431, 489–90
Civil service, 294, 305, 316–17
Department of Medicine and Health, 492–93, 501–3
Economic policy, 326
Governance, 309–10, 316–18, 328–29, 333–34, 412
Health legislation, 492, 493, 503, 505, 511, 513–14, 524
Honorary positions, 294–95
Policy towards traditional medicine, 492, 505–6, 516–18, 523–24, 525
Policy towards Western medicine, 492–93, 500–4, 505, 516–18
Hong Kong Housing Authority, 306
Hong Kong Medical Association (HKMA), 493, 494, 504, 545
Hong Kong Medical Council, 500
Hong Kong New Territories, 320, 412, 471. See also Farmers; Land, Hong Kong New Territories
Population, 276, 331–32, 337, 338, 346
Hong Kong University. See University of Hong Kong, The Hong Men Heaven and Earth League. See Triad societies
Hongbao. See Red packets
Honourable men (kwai yan; Guiren) credentials, 42, 44, 80–82, 387, 394–96
Honourable men and lucky horses (Kwai yan lok ma), 43, 44, 84, 95, 394, 395, 398, 399
Honourable Men from Everywhere (Sifang Guiren), 84
Horoscopes, 59, 74, 391. See also Eight characters of birth
Information used in occasional rites, 34, 36, 50
Mismeres in, 29, 52–53, 118, 465, 469, 478–79, 486, 529, 534, 535
Mother’s “flower fate” (fa-meng, huaming), 476
Relation to fate, 439
Relation to health or illness, 477, 499–500, 510, 515, 534
Sixty-year cycle, 52–53
Use in arranging marriages, 97, 101–2
Horses, paper, 30, 42
Hospitals, 59–60, 130, 539
“Hot poison” (it-tuk; redu), 454, 455
Houses of Big Difficulties (Danun guan). See “Death Houses”
Housing, 28, 130–31, 298, 329, 348, 497. See also Vegetarian halls
As a source of prestige, 300–1, 320
For women (See Girls’ houses; Vegetarian halls)
Government ownership of, 306
Investment in, 344, 346
Housing Board, Hong Kong, 329
Hsi Wang Mu. See Western Royal Mother
Hsi-ch’iao, Kwangtung Province, 424–26, 428, 430
Hsien T’ien Men. See Pudu Men
Hsu, Francis, 281–82, 285
Hua yi bao. See Flowery Coats Packet
Huaming. See Horoscopes: Mother’s “flower fate”
Huawang fumu (fa-wong foo-mo, Mother and Father Gardener), 476, 484–85
Hui. See Voluntary associations
Human body, 451, 460
Human substitutes. See Effigies; Scapegoats
Humanity, humans. See Man
Humours, bodily, 371, 460, 498–99, 508
Hung paau. See Red packets
Hungry Ghosts (pretas), 57, 59, 115
Legends re, 61–62
Rites for, 68, 91–92, 169–70, 190, 419
Huphe (Hubei) Province, China, 135, 232
Hygiene, Taoist, 221

I
I Guan Dao (I-kuan Tao; Way of Pervading Unity) sect, 236, 238–39. See also under Cosmology
I-Ching. See Book of Changes (Yijing)
I-kuan Tao. See I Guan Dao
I-tuk kung-tuk. See “Poisonous” medicines
Ideological associations, 195–200
Illness. See Diseases and disorders
Immigrants, immigration, 142, 187, 352, 497
Aged care for (See Vegetarian halls)
Aims of, 108, 178, 358
Impact of ban on vegetarian halls on, 118–19, 145
Pioneer worship, 142, 155, 185
Women, 107, 264
Immortal Youth (Tong Xian), 82, 87
Immortals, Taoist, 531
Imperial edicts, 393
Incense. 28, 50, 67, 93, 150, 393
Manufacture and sale of, 121, 156, 394 n11
“Opening” charms with, 74
Use in occasional rites, 31–36, 40, 44–47, 53, 54
Use with prayer sheets, 91
India, 133 n9, 207 n18
Indians in Hong Kong, 275 n1
Indians in Singapore, 180 n14
Indigenous associations, 352, 353
Individualism, 281, 282, 369, 511
Indonesia, 145, 410
Industrialization, 110, 279, 291, 343. See also Business and industry
Impact on employment levels, 428–29
Impact on old age social support, 302
Increase in demand for female labour resulting from, 443
Influence on Great Way of Former Heaven popularity, 431
Work conditions, 324–26
Infanticide, 426, 435, 484, 486, 532
Infections, rites for. See Lifting the Influence rite
Inoculation, 456, 492, 493, 511
“Internal”, terminology on, 529–30
Internal Classic (Neijing), 530
Islam, 152, 196, 236
It. See Heat and cold theory
It-tuk. See “Hot poison”

J
Jade, 66, 460–63, 466, 535, 536
Jade Emperor, 88, 376, 387, 464, 536
Festivals, 157–58
Origin of, 135
Places of worship for, 130, 153, 155
Jade Maidens (Yu Nü), 82, 87
Japan, 4, 345. See also Sino-Japanese War
Jewellery, 344, 349, 460, 461. See also Bangles; Gold; Jade
Jiama charm. See Armour and Horse charm
Jian. See Edicts
Jiao Jing. See Calling Back the Soul rite
Jie yin. See Buddha: Sign of Jile (Western Paradise), 91, 114, 137–38, 432
Jile Si. See Kek Si
Jin Hua Mo. See Kam Fa Mo
Jin Miao. See Temple of the Golden Flower
Jinlan Hut. See Golden Orchid Associations
Jimmu. See Golden Mother goddess
Index

Jinpai. See Golden tablets
Jiuhuang (Nine Kings) temple, 152, 157
Johnson, Elizabeth, 16
Johnson, Graham, 16
Jones, J. R., 15
Joss. See Incense
Joyful Affairs charm, 55–56

K
Kaa sai, jie xi. See Untying and Washing Away (the Illness) rite
Kadoorie Agricultural Aid Association, 334, 339–40, 347
Kadoorie Agricultural Loan Fund, 334, 356
K’ai-kwoh. See Children: Bonding to outside individuals or entities
K’ai-ma. See Mothers, bonded; Mothers, spiritual
K’ai-nu. See Daughters, bonded
K’ai-tsa. See Sons, bonded
K’ai-ye. See Grandfathers, bonded
Kaiguan Daoqiao. See Clearing the Way on Reaching the Bridge rite
Kaitan (Opening the Ceremony ritual), 61
Kam Fa Mo. See Golden Flower Mother goddess
Kam Ha Ching She vegetarian hall, Kowloon, 414, 415, 418, 419
Kam Mieu. See Temple of the Golden Flower
Karma, 531–33, See also Fate
K’ei-kwai (qiguai, “strange-queer”, Cantonese), 472, 474, 482. See also Newborns: “Poisonous” nature of K’ei-peng. See Diseases and disorders: Contagious; “Strange” disease
Kek Lok Si (Jile Si, Penang temple), 127, 137
Kinship. See also Clans; Family; Lineage/clan associations
Kinship associations, 175–76, 179, 192
Kitchen God, 88
Kiu Keng. See Calling Back the Soul rite
Kowloon, Hong Kong, 276, 335, 419, 526
Aged care, 412
Agriculture, 353–54
History of, 333, 489
Riots over ferry rates, 326–27
Vegetarian halls, 405–21, 418–20
(See also Wing Lok T’ang vegetarian hall)
Kuan Ti. See God of War
Kuan Yin. See Guanyin
Kuan Yin T’ang (Guanyin Tang) vegetarian hall, 158, 162
Kuan-kung (Guangong) temple, 188
Kuei (ghosts). See Ghosts
Kuei-ken Men (Guigen Men, Sect of Reverting to the Root (of Things)/First Principle), 145–46, 205–6, 214 n42, 221 n62, 408
History, 209, 212
Mother goddess, 417
Names for, 235
Patriarchs, 207 n17, 207 n18, 222 n67
Political orientation, 216
Ranks, 220, 224, 225, 227
Kui mia. See Fate: “Expensive fate”
Kuomintang (Guomindang), 509, 512, 544
Kwai yan (guai; “strange”). See “Strangeness” theory
Kwaan (guan; barriers), 384, 389. See also Children: Dangerous times/barriers
Kwai yan. See Honourable men
Kwai yan loc ma. See Honourable men and lucky horses
Kwoh hsin ch’iao. See Crossing the Bridge rite
Kwoh Kwaan. See Passing through the Gate rite
Kwoh Kwaan paper, 33
Index

L

La-taat (lata, unclean), 454, 455

Landscape as source of “poison” disease, 473

Lao Tzu (Laozi), 129, 133–35, 139, 144, 417

Laoshi. See Vegetarian halls: Teachers

Laozi. See Lao Tzu

Lata. See la-taat

Law, Chinese, 278

Law and Economy School, 288

Lawsuits, fear of, 31

Lay monks, Buddhist, 126

Lay nuns (zhaigu), 126

Leadership, influence of wealth on, 294

Leprosy, 474, 499, 515

Lesbianism, 18, 433

“Lesser Vehicle”. See Hinayana Buddhism

Leung. See Heat and cold theory

Liang. See Heat and cold theory

Lifting the Influence rite/Lifting off the Offence rite (Hei Faan; Qi Fan), 50, 395

Limitless, Void Holy Mother. See Golden Mother goddess

Lineage/clan associations, 346, 352, 353, 440–41, 503

Agricultural co-operatives, 345

Care for soul tablets in, 128, 185–86, 189

Care for the poor, 336

In China, 175–76, 182, 252, 265, 267

Land held by, 289, 304–5, 336, 338, 341, 358–59

Temples owned by, 150–51

Women’s membership in, 190–91

Lineage/clan villages, China, 276, 284, 332 n1, 333–34, 426

19th C., 242, 245, 247, 250

Ancestor worship in, 242–46, 268–69

Sectarian religion in, 265

Lineages, 243–46, 289, 296

Buddhist, 193

Landownership, 336–37, 342

Operation of bachelor and spinster houses, 429, 440–41

Relation to surnames, 306

Ling. See Bones: Spiritual power of Literacy, 261–62, 432, 436

Little men (siu-yan; xiaoren), 386, 400, 464. See also Prayer against the Little Man rite; Spirits (demons)

Little Tradition. See Religion, popular (Little Tradition)

Liu, James, 15

Liugui zi. See Children: Drawing a spirit of the dead

Loan associations, 285–86, 312, 348, 352, 443

Affiliation with other associations, 189, 194

Fraud within, 285, 286 n22

Ritual practices associated with, 178

Local cults, 131, 372, 376. See also

Ancestor worship; State cults

Development of, 141–42, 149–52, 155
Index

Rural China, 176, 242, 246–52, 268–69
Loh-kwai tsai. See Children: Drawing a spirit of the dead
London School of Economics (LSE), 3–5, 12, 13, 16
London-Cornell Project, 13
Long life, 71, 88, 136, 145, 171 n74, 221, 369
Long life, prosperity, fertility triad, 83
Long life associations, 189–93. See also Death benefit societies
Long life charm (Baoshou Die), 80, 81
Long life rice, 71
"Longevity" tablets (ancestor tablets), 150
Longhua Men. See Dragon Flower sect
Longhua sect, 145, 229–30, 237, 261
Longhua trees, 147
Longpai. See Soul tablets, temporary
Lo Wei Ch’un, Patriarch (Hsien T’ien Ta Tao), 160–61, 209–11, 211 n27, 222, 237–38
Lotus sutra, 254
LSE. See London School of Economics
Lu ("lucky" or "green"), 84, 394
Luck. See Bad luck; Good luck
“Lucky horses”, 43, 82. See also Honourable men and lucky horses
Lung diseases, 475
Lung p’ai. See Soul tablets, temporary

M
Ma-ch’ an. See Measles
Ma-tai. See Measles
Macau, 5, 12, 275 n1
Magic, 529–30. See also Occult practices
Mahayana Buddhism ("Greater Vehicle"), 137, 161, 458
Mahayana sutras, 210, 211, 221 n62
Maitreya ("Buddha to come"), 147, 215–18, 222, 232–35, 408–9
Malaya, 4, 58, 76, 151, 410
Immigration to, 110–12, 429, 442
Vegetarian halls, 145, 161–62
Malayan Races Liberation Army (MRLA), 4
Malaysians in Singapore, 180 n14
Male principle. See Yin and yang
Malinowski, Bronislaw, 3
“Mammoth” papers, 78, 79, 94
Man, 367–69, 472, 531–33. See also Human body; Men; Women
Nature of, 374–75, 468, 498–99, 509–10, 528, 531
Relation with cosmos, 382–86, 400
Man Fat Tong vegetarian hall, Ngau Chi Wan, 414–15
Man Yuan T’ong vegetarian hall, Hong Kong, 414
Manchu Dynasty, 141, 161, 177 n5, 186, 187
Mandates (paper charms), 74, 393
Manure, human. See Night-soil
Maqin. See Measles
See also Bride-price; Women, married
By proxy, 435
Changes in, 443
Charsms related to, 82, 439
Period of adjustment to, 472
Polarization of, 474
Rites for, 479, 480
Selection of partner, 53, 109, 437–40, 479
Stability of, 282
Women’s attitudes towards, 109–10, 115–17 (See also Marriage resistance)
Marriage Affinity Rock (Yan-uen Shek), 481
Marriage code, republican, 110
“Master of the incense”, 67
Matchmakers, 109, 437
Materialism, 279, 281, 289, 294. See also Wealth accumulation
Mazai. See Measles
Measles (Ma-ch’ an; maqin; ma-tai; mazai), 19, 468–69, 476, 515, 527, 545
Customs on, 449–50, 453–59, 472
Mortality related to, 454, 476 n2
Relation to “hot-cold” theory, 455–59
Medical anthropology, 2, 13, 18, 19
Medical associations, 493–96, 502, 504, 512–14, 524–25, 543–44
Medical facilities, Hong Kong
Charitable, 493–95, 502–4, 513, 542
Government-operated, 494, 501, 502, 504–5, 525–26, 539
Medical malpractice, 503
Medical Registration Ordinance (Hong Kong), 491, 493–94
Medical system, Hong Kong, 490. See also Medicine, traditional; Medicine, Western Access to, 497, 500–1, 504, 517, 540–42
Demands on, 496–98
Linkages between traditional and Western practitioners, 495–96, 525
Usage patterns, 497–99, 514–18, 526, 533–46
Medicine, traditional, 99, 134, 198 n58, 371, 378, 451–54, 472–76, 530, 536. See also Herbalists
Anthropological research on, 489–90
Connexion between scholarly and popular traditions, 453, 456, 466, 507
Continuum of practices, 495, 508–10
Demand for, 496–500, 513–15, 524–25, 541–42
Explanations of drug effects, 508
Historical developments, 451–52, 489–90, 527
Hong Kong policy on, 491–92, 504–11, 517–18, 523–24, 543–45
Incorporation of Western treatments into, 526
Personal practice of, 452–53, 507, 540 (See also Herbalists)
Practice by Western-trained doctors, 493–94
Practices considered dangerous by Western medicine, 505, 545
Ritual aspects of, 451, 467–69, 506, 510, 517, 526–27
Scholarly tradition (Great Tradition), 451–54, 456–57, 466, 472–73, 506–8, 527
Terminology on, 492, 529–31
Medicine, Western, 99, 198 n58, 378, 456, 462, 536, 539. See also Doctors, Western Acceptance of, 515–16
Availability of, 501, 514–15, 524, 539–40
Ethical aspects of, 500
Evolution of, 489–90
Financial aspects of, 307
Hong Kong government policy towards, 492–94, 500–4
Illegal practitioners of, 494–96, 499–500, 503
Medications (See Pharmaceuticals)
Private practice, 500–5
Relation to Western folk medicine, 507–8
Terminology on, 492
Traditional practitioners’ use of, 510–12
Meditation, 137, 144, 221, 259
Mediums. See Spirit mediums
Meizi. See Servants, bonded
Men
Attractiveness of Taoism to, 257
Involvement in vegetarian halls, 165, 192
Participation in occasional rites, 27, 152
Unattached, 98, 127, 253–54, 340, 429
Mencius, 207 n18, 287–88
Menstruation, 427, 457, 475, 499
Mental health and illness, 365, 383, 453, 545. See also Emotional disturbances
Messianism, 143, 258, 327, 431
Metaphysics, 452, 457, 527
Miasmata (ts’-e-hei; xieqi; ts’emung; siemen), 499, 510
Midwifery, 109, 437, 479
Migrants’ associations, 175–76
Millennarian religion, 409, 411, 431
Min dialect, 5, 183 n22, 276, 485
Ming Dynasty, 141, 144, 160, 233, 266
Ming Ti (Ming Di), Emperor, 134, 136
Minister/Ministry of Time (Taai Sui; Tai Seou; Taisui), 53, 375, 384, 387, 536. See also Raising up Tai Seou rite
Mirrors, 42, 48, 79, 133
Miscarriage, 455
Misfortune. See Bad luck
Missionaries, 14. See also Great Way of Former Heaven sects: spread of; Roman Catholicism; Christianity, Christians
Mistress of the Golden Flower (deity), 33, 36, 37, 51–52
Mo doufu (“Grinding bean curd”). See Lesbianism
Mohammed, 196, 198
Monasteries, 125–30, 137, 140, 253, 405, 431. See also Monks, Buddhist Connexions to vegetarian halls, 119, 127, 406
Master-disciple pseudo-kinship relations, 127, 155, 162, 166–68, 192
Membership in Buddhist associations, 197
Public access to, 149
Sectarian religions, 260
Social benefits of, 254–56
Sources of income, 139–40, 149, 167
Taoist, 256–57
Monasticism, 113, 137. See also Monks; Nuns
Money
As offering (coins), 36, 37, 69, 70
As part of bride-price, 312
As ritual theme, 401–2
Conflict over, 285
Money, paper (“hell money”), 74, 84, 90, 91 122, 394, 395, 400. See also
Gold and silver bullion, paper
Temple sale of, 156
Use in ghost marriages, 102
Use in occasional rites, 30–37 passim, 384, 386, 536
Use in rites for the dead, 57, 63, 68, 71, 91–96
Money-lenders. See Loans and advances
Mongolian spot, 461, 532
Monk families. See Monasteries:
Master-disciple pseudo-kinship relations
Monkey God (Great Saint), 9, 93, 96, 152
Monks, Buddhist, 60, 61, 130, 166–68. See also Lay monks
Administration of vegetarian halls, 192
Mahayana school, 137
Ordination of, 113, 125–26, 254–55
Performance of rites, 67, 154, 156
Morality, 214, 368, 531–33. See also Ethics
Confucian beliefs on, 374
Relation to health, 500, 509, 510, 538
Souls’ concern with, 388–89
Mortuaries, 60
Mortuary rites. See Rites for the dead
Mother and Father Gardener (fa-wong foo-mo, huawang fumu), 476, 484–85
Mother goddess. See Golden Mother goddess
Mother-child syndrome, 19–20, 471, 476–87, 529, 532–35, 538, 539, 545
Mothers
Relationship with children (See Mother-child syndrome)
Responsibility for family health care, 497–98
Role in rites involving child, 32, 34, 538
Mothers, bonded (k’ai-ma, qima), 480
Mothers, spiritual (k’ai-ma, qima), 383
Mothers-in-law, 109, 437, 486
Index

Mounting the Platform rite (shangtai), 169–71
Mourners, 9, 57–58, 69, 191, 457–59
  As source of poison disease, 473, 500
Clothing, 65–66
Movies. See Films
MRLA (Malayan Races Liberation Army), 4
Mui-tsai. See Servants, bonded
Mulberry culture, 426–28, 445
Mulian, story of, 61–62
Mutual dependence (cultural pattern), 281–82, 285, 289–90, 292
Mutual incompatibility. See Mother-child syndrome
Mystical science, 529–31, 534–35, 538, 546

N
Nam-mo-lo (chanting fellows), 7, 8, 60, 65, 77, 136, 153–54, 391
  Residences of, 130
  Rites performed by, 62–63, 68, 147, 156, 387, 463
  Terminology on, 77 n3
Names, generational, 168, 192 n46, 229
Names, personal, 83
  Additions to related to polarization, 478
  Use in occasional rites, 34, 36–37, 45–46
Nan Yang Sacred Union, 129, 206
Nan Yang University, 198
Narcotics, 308. See also Opium
National cults. See State cults
Natural disasters, 216, 262
Natural law, 79, 213–14, 531–33, 538
Neijing (Internal Classic), 530
Neuroses, 465. See also Emotional disturbances
New Year, 118, 163
  Charms for, 76, 84, 85, 87, 88
  Customs on, 40 n11, 76, 305, 348–49, 352–53, 515
Newborns, 454–56, 460–61, 466
  Difficulties of, 471 (See also Mother-child syndrome)
  Mortality rates, 486, 497
  “Poisonous” nature (k’ei-kwaai) of, 475–76
Ng-kwa. See Five demons
Nian society, 259, 264–66
Night-soil, 339, 347, 355, 429–30
Nightmares, 47, 389
Nigu. See Nuns, Buddhist: Fully professed
Nine Kings (Jiuhuang) temple, 152, 157
Nine Skies goddess of the elements, 80–81
Nirvana, 115, 161
Nothingness, 133. See also Void
Nunneries, 112, 116, 119, 192, 336, 405–6, 430
  Chinese government policy on, 140
  Festival celebrations, 169, 171
  Master-disciple pseudo-kinship relations, 125–27, 254–55
  Origins of, 137
  Ownership of, 168–69
  Regulations governing, 171, 432
  Relationships among, 127, 171, 254–55
  Social benefits of, 171, 195, 253–54, 256
  Sources of income, 121–22, 139–40, 353
  Taoist, 256–57
  Terminology on, 130
Nuns, Buddhist, 60, 109, 137–38, 166.
  See also Lay nuns
  Adoption of children by, 166–69
  Cremation of, 122
  Fully professed (nigu), 126, 169
  Legends about, 115
  Ordination of, 113, 126, 168–71, 254–55
  Reasons for becoming, 113, 166, 253–54, 431, 436–37, 477
  Residing in vegetarian halls, 113, 166, 192
  Sources of income, 67, 121, 166–67, 169, 192
  Taoist, 109
Nurseries (day care facilities), 446
Nursing homes. See “Death Houses”

O
O mi t'o sutra. See Amitabha sutra
O-mi-t'o Fu. See Amitabha
Occasional rites, 5, 27–56, 153, 251–52, 387, 401
Commercial aspects of, 391–93
Definition of, 27
Experts (See Experts, ritual; Priests; Spirit mediums)
For illness (See Diseases and disorders: Rites for)
For misfortune (See Troubles: Rites for)
Location of performance, 27–28, 40, 76, 153–56, 178, 400
Material apparatus for, 27, 37, 393–94 (See also Candles; Charms, paper; Incense)
Performed by monks and nuns, 139
Performed without a priest, 40–46, 50
Personal information on beneficiary used in, 32, 34, 36, 44–46, 83
Photographing of, 11
Privately performed, 28, 38, 54–55, 84, 99–100, 381–403, 389, 394
Surrogates used in, 31, 401, 435
Women’s role in, 10, 27, 75
Occult practices, 74, 79, 151
Occupation-based associations, 181–82, 184–85, 190, 193, 201, 257
Occupations, choice of, 292, 321. See also Employment; Professions
Oil
Legends on, 61–62
Use in occasional rites, 35, 40, 42, 65, 154 n48
Use in rites for the dead, 64, 66, 121
Old age
Care, 286 (See also “Death Houses”; Vegetarian halls)
Diseases of, 499
Saving money for, 286, 302, 313

Oui. See Voluntary associations
Opening the Barrier on Reaching the Bridge rite, 395
Opening the Ceremony rite (Kaitan), 61
Opium, 45, 133, 196, 491, 505
Opposites. See Harmony, cosmic; Yin and yang
Orphanages, 198

P
Pai. See Tablets
Pain, rites for. See Lifting the Influence rite
P’an-yü, Kwangtung Province, 424, 425–26, 437, 444
Pao En Ssu (Paoen Si) monastery, Pasir Panjang, 149, 154
Paper charms. See Charms, paper; Credentials
Paradise, Buddhist, 91. See also Afterlife
Pardon, tablets of (paper charms), 74, 78–79, 393
Pasir Panjang, Singapore, 137, 160, 171
Passing through the Gate rite (Kwoh Kwan, Guoguan), 29–49
Passport for the Spirits (charm), 89, 91
Past cycle. See Earthly cycles
Pawnbrokers, 285
Paying Respects rite (dazhai), 59–60, 63, 71, 189
Peace Loving Couple (Yinyuan) charm, 82
Pearl powder, 462, 535, 536, 540
Pearly Emperor. See Jade Emperor
Peasants, 108, 280–81, 284, 297, 333, 350, 352
Penang, Malaysia, 126, 186
Pendants, 463, 535, 536
People’s Republic of China (PRC), 12, 143, 442–43, 509, 545
Periodicals as research source, 279
Personal cultivation (xiuxing), 289–90
Petrie, Flinders, 3
Pharmaceutical Society, Hong Kong, 493
Pharmaceuticals, 307, 493–95, 510–12, 517, 525, 540
Pharmacies, pharmacists, 495, 542–43
Pharmacy and Poisons Ordinance (Hong Kong), 492, 514
Pheasants, 456
Philanthropic associations, 181, 197–100, 290, 297, 512–13. See also Benevolence halls
Chinese, 140
Provision of assistance to farmers, 334
Sectarian religious, 541
Social attitudes towards, 293
Sources of income, 200
Wealth held by, 306
Philanthropy, 155, 257, 290, 292, 412, 419
As a source of social status, 297, 307
Publicity given to, 314, 317, 318
Physiomorphism of man, 529
Pi Shan T’ing (Bishan Ting) Cantonese cemetery, Singapore, 164, 168
Pigs
Charms portraying, 531
Farming, 331–32, 339–40, 344, 356
Ritual killing of, 532
Places of worship, 129–31, 142–43, 152, 171, 193, 249
Avoidance during pregnancy, 475
Design and layout of, 148–50
Non-residential, 128, 130, 149–50
(See also Shrines; Temples)
Residential, 131, 148–50 (See also Monasteries; Nunneries; Vegetarian halls)
Plant of life, 50, 51, 391
Po-ying taan (baoying dan; “protect infant”) pills, 462, 535, 536, 540
Poetry, 15, 62, 69–70, 168, 221 n62, 431
“Poison”, 461, 476, 480
“Poisonous” medicines (i-tuk kung-tuk, yidu gongdu), 508, 511, 515
Polarization (medical term), 472–77, 482, 499, 508, 527. See also Heat and cold theory
Political parties, 181, 201
Polunin, Ivor, 11
Pomelo leaves, 50, 457, 458
Popular temple cults. See Local cults
Pork, 36, 45
Pork societies, 352–53
Portuguese In Hong Kong, 275 n1, 299, 303
Post-mortuary rites. See Rites for the dead
Poultry and egg farming, 332, 340
Poverty, 279
Influence on beliefs and attitudes, 280, 300, 402–3
Influence on family, 118, 282–84, 292
Influence on health, 497
Prayer. See also Sutras
For the dead (See Rites for the dead)
For the living, 91
Of thanksgiving, 158
Prayer against the Little Man rite (Paai Siu Yan, Bai Xiaoren), 38, 40–46, 395, 398, 399
Prayer Away or To Get Rid of (Paai Cheoe, Bai Chu). See Prayer against the Little Man rite
Prayer books, Buddhist, 123
Prayer sheets, Buddhist, 73, 75, 76, 88, 91, 115, 123, 138
Prayers to Change Fate (Paai Chuen Wan, Bai Zhan Yuan), 46
PRC. See People’s Republic of China
Pregnancy. See also Fertility
Beliefs on, 427, 429, 455, 457, 472, 475
Complications of, 475, 478, 534
Diet in, 475, 476, 545
Outside of marriage, 438
Index

Rites for, 56
Present cycle. See Earthly cycles
Pretas. See Hungry Ghosts
Priest-magician, doctrine of, 134
Priests, 39, 67, 384
  Economic status of, 197
  Knowledge of charm lore, 74
  Marriage of, 60
  Occasional rites performed by, 27–28, 33–37, 40, 46, 98, 102, 129–30, 156
  Requirements for, 307
  Rites for the dead performed by, 60, 64–71, 290
  Role in traditional medicine, 50–52, 452, 453, 465, 473, 529, 541
  Terminology on, 387
Priests, Buddhist, 37 n10, 140, 154, 290, 307
  Role in traditional medicine, 526, 536, 541
  Vows, 126, 140
Priests, Taoist, 28, 38, 97, 99, 263, 387, 392–93. See also Nam-mo-lo
  19th C. rural China, 252, 257
  Ascetic practices, 135–36, 457–58
  Occasional rites performed by, 102, 395
  Residences of, 130
  Rites for the dead performed by, 192, 290
  Role in traditional medicine, 29, 506, 509–10, 515, 526, 536–38, 541
  Social status of, 401
Primary group, 281–82. See also Family
Prison, fear of, 31
Procuresses, 109
Producer goods as investments, 302–3, 320, 348
Professions, 283, 314, 317
Promiscuity, 437–38, 444
Propitious days, 29, 40, 54
Prosperity, 44 n16, 477, 481–82. See also Long-life, prosperity, fertility triad
  Charms for, 84, 87, 88
Concern of voluntary associations with, 178
  Occasional rites for, 73
Prostitution, 107, 109, 437, 511
Pseudo-kinship relations, 254–57, 406. See also Bonding rites; see also under Monasteries; Nunneries; Vegetarian halls
Psychiatry, 453, 515, 517, 545. See also
  Emotional disturbances
Pudu gu yuan. See Universal Helping of the Wandering Spirits rite
Pudu Men (Hsien T’ien Men, Xiantian Men), 145–46, 205–6, 217, 235, 408
  Administration of, 210, 223–24, 225 n71, 236
  History of, 160, 210–13
  Names for Mother goddess, 214 n44, 236
  Naming of members, 228
  Patriarchs, 207 n17, 237
Pulau Kusu (Kusu Island), Singapore, 122, 158–59
  Pun Har Tung vegetarian hall, 412
Pure Land (Buddhist paradise), 61, 62, 254
Pure Land Sect of the “Greater Vehicle”, 114–16, 137–39
Purgatory, 388, 394, 401, 436, 461
Purification rites, 68–69, 73, 100, 395, 457
  Pusat. See Bodhisattva
Q
  Qi Fan. See Lifting the Influence rite
Qibing. See Diseases and disorders:
  Contagious; “Strange” disease
Qie. See Concubinage, concubines
Qigua. See K’ei-kwaai
Qiguo. See Children, Bonding to outside individuals or entities
Qima. See Mothers, bonded; Mothers, spiritual
Qing Dynasty, 160–61, 388, 505, 509
  Great Way of Former Heaven activity, 144–46, 226–27
Index

Inheritance laws and customs, 310–11, 335, 343
Political opposition to, 144, 161, 187, 266
Quingming. See Food offerings, ritual: Cleaning of Graves rite; Graves: Cleaning of Qiniü. See Daughters, bonded
Qiye. See Grandfathers, bonded
Qizi. See Sons, bonded
Quanzhen School of Taoism. See Complete Purity School of Taoism
Quasi-science, 529–31, 535–36, 538, 546
Queen of Heaven. See Tianhou Shengmu
“Queerness”, terminology on, 473, 477, 481

R
Raffles Museum, Singapore, 4–5
Raising up Tai Seou rite (Sip Tai Seou, She Tasui), 39, 52–53, 384, 535–36, 538
Randeng Fo. See Dipamkara
RAS. See Royal Asiatic Society
Rattles, 37, 37 n10, 38
Re. See Heat and cold theory
Real-estate, 302–6, 312–13, 316, 343.
See also Land
Rebirth. See Reincarnation
Record of the Western Journey (Xiyou Ji), 152
Records of Mu Lien, 61
Red packets (hung paau, hongbao), 162, 171, 172, 440
As payment for services, 74, 118, 157, 305–6
Ritual use of, 40, 53–55
Red Swastika society, 198–99
Redu. See “Hot poison”
Refugees, 278, 279, 312–14, 495–97, 501–3
Reincarnation, 243, 394, 461, 476, 483
Buddhist beliefs on, 137, 531–32
Charms for, 91–92
Great Way of Former Heaven beliefs on, 221, 417
Legends re, 61
Money needed for, 90, 91
Problems related to, 536
Pure Land sect beliefs on, 137–38
Relation to health, 465–66
Relation to marriage, 432
Reliever of a Hundred Catastrophes (charm), 29 n4, 31–38, 41, 44–50, 78–80, 395, 400
Religion, Chinese, 13–15, 18. See also Buddhism, Buddhists; Rites; Sectarian religion; Taoism, Taoists
Religion, organized, 132
Great Way of Former Heaven beliefs, 214
Influence on economic values/behaviour, 281
Taoist beliefs, 214 n46
Individual practice of, 381
Interconnexion with secular life, 181
Pre-Confucian, 141
Reform movements, 178–79, 200
Relation to Great Tradition, 376–77, 508–9
Relation to traditional medicine, 467, 530, 535
Singapore government policy towards, 177
Syncretic nature of, 131–35, 147–48, 180, 388, 541
Women’s role in, 389
Religion, scholarly. See Great Tradition
Religion of the Void, 196, 257 n32
Religious associations, 177–81, 189–95, 199–202
19th C. rural China, 252–53
As source of loans, 351–52
Characteristics of, 183, 190–91, 199–200, 297
Repentance, rite of (taai pei ch’aaam, da beicham), 465
Research, 332, 372, 449–50, 489–90
Cross-cultural, 529–30
Funding of, 13
Gaps in, 108, 204
Methods, 28, 99–100, 107, 204–6, 277–79
Resemblances, theory of (folk medicine), 453, 456–57
Restaurants, 197, 300–1, 350. See also Vegetarian restaurants
Return to the Void/Root (Guigen), 214, 217, 368
Reverting to the Root (of Things)/First Principle (sect). See Kuei-ken Men
Rice, 419
Price of, 356
Ritual use of, 33, 34, 36, 46, 66–68, 71, 464
Storage of, 339
Rice farmers, 323, 331–32, 337–46, 349, 356
Rites. See also Festivals; Occasional rites; Rites for the dead
Purposes of, 378–79, 400–3, 467–69, 535, 538–39
Role of belief in, 391–92
Rites for the dead, 7, 8, 57–71, 98, 184–85, 467–69. See also Ancestor worship; Ghost marriages; Long life associations; Mourners; Spirits of the dead
19th C. rural China, 243
Associations’ involvement in, 179–80, 185, 188–90
Buddhist versus Taoist practices, 11, 60, 66–67, 190
Commemoration on anniversaries (See Paying Respects rite)
Conduct of research on, 11
Cost of, 57–59, 285, 290, 344, 357
Customs surrounding, 200, 458
Financing of, 311, 349, 441
Illness following, 534
Influence on personal fate, 384
Levity in, 70
Material apparatus, 73, 87, 91, 290, 402–3
Private aspects of, 193 n46
S
Sacerdotal robes, 38, 66–68
Sacrificial meals. See Food offerings, ritual
Sacrilege, legends re, 61–62
Sages, 222, 257, 368, 376, 408, 481
Sai-i. See Doctors, Western Saintly Mother (Shengmu Shen), 154
Saints, 67–68, 79, 80, 91, 123, 161
Sakyamuni, 122, 168–170, 417
Descendants of, 138
Great Way of Former Heaven beliefs, 215–18, 232, 408
Life story, 133 n9, 214 n46
Salvation
Buddhist beliefs on, 217
Sectarian beliefs on, 115, 215, 217, 267
Salvation sect. See Pudu Men
Salvationist religion, 179, 195, 289–90
Samsu (distilled spirit), 36, 37, 45
Sanhua. See Distributing Flowers rite
Sanskrit, 73, 91
Sarawak, Malaysia, 145, 162, 163
Scapegoats, 29–33, 36–38, 45–46
Sectarian practices, 138, 458
Use of ritual experts for, 114, 136, 168–71
Vegetarian halls’ involvement in, 112–13, 121, 411
Rites of passage, 458–59, 467–68, 527, 534, 545. See also Transitions
Ritual materials, sale of, 6, 389, 391–400
Ritual papers. See Charms, paper; Prayer sheets, Buddhist
Rivers, protection by Earth gods, 249
Road junctions, 27–28, 40, 76, 400
Rocks, 473, 481, 482
Roman Catholicism, 188
Royal Asiatic Society (RAS), 14
Royal Asiatic Society Hong Kong Branch (HKBRAS), 2, 12–17
Royal Lord of the East (Dong Wangkung), 82, 87
Rulers, used in ritual 48–49
Index

Sceptre for “defeating the spirits”, 66–68
Scholars, 372
19th C. rural China, 244–50
Role in traditional medicine, 453–54, 541
Social status, 287–88, 293
School of Oriental and African Studies, 4, 13
Schools, 155, 197, 317. See also Education
Scissors, ritual use of 50, 464
Scorpions, 508, 515
Seafarers, 142, 230, 262
Séances, 199. See also Automatic writing; Spirit mediums
Secret societies, 143, 145, 181–83, 186–88, 433. See also Triad societies
Political activity of, 201, 264–68, 270–71
Protectionist activities, 309, 513
Relations to bone-setter societies, 512
Role of religion in, 177, 201
Suppression of, 181, 252
Secretariat for Home (Chinese) Affairs (Hong Kong), 491, 503, 511, 513–14, 525, 544
“Sect”, terminology on, 236 n99, 257–58
Sectarian associations, 195–200
Sectarian religion, 143–48, 177, 193
See also Great Way of Former Heaven sects; Nan Yang Sacred Union;
Religion of the Void
19th C. rural China, 253–54, 258–70
Master-disciple pseudo-kinship relations, 264
Non-vegetarian, 407
Patriarchs, 138, 145–47, 161
Political activity, 195–97, 264–66, 408–9
Religious beliefs and practices, 192, 197–98, 376, 417–18
Rivalries, 214
Role in traditional medicine, 541
Suppression of, 204–5, 238–39, 264
Terminology on, 257–58
Sects, syncretic. See Sectarian religion
Security, psychological, 281–82
Sericulture. See Silk industry
Servants, bonded (mui-tsaï, meizi), 61–62, 434, 439–41, 443
Services, payment for, 305–6, 309
Seven Sisters Festival, 194
Sexual abstinence, 126, 199, 458
Chastity vows, 423, 430, 438–39, 444–45
Reasons for, 436, 457, 459, 475
(See also under Childbirth, Concept of pollution related to)
Sectarian religious practices, 128, 205, 219, 230, 260, 407
Within marriage, 98, 440
Sexual equality, 431
Sexual relations
Extra-marital, 443
Fear of, 436–37
With “imbalanced” person, 499
Shamanism, 141
Shame, feelings of, 401
Shan. See Deities
Shan Te T’ang (Shande Tang; Hall/House of Good Virtue) vegetarian hall, 130, 163, 165
Shanghai, China, 291–92, 297, 427
Shanghai Banking Corporation, 15
Shanghainese, 276
Cantonese attitude towards, 311, 313
In Hong Kong, 280–81, 306–7, 317, 343
Shangtai (Mounting the Platform rite), 169–71
Shangyuan Dan festival, 158
Shanshu. See Books, religious
Shantang. See Benevolence halls
Shantung (Shandong) Province, China, 161, 251, 258
She. See Temple associations
Index

She Tasui. See Raising up Tai Seou rite

Shen. See Deities. See also Water spirits

Shen zhupai. See Soul tablets, permanent

Shengmu Shen (Saintly Mother), 154

Shrines, 125, 142, 155, 193–94, 249

Shu hun gui. See Soul: Ransom from the spirit world

Shuang jiebai (sworn sisters), 432

Shuang Lin Ch'an Si (Shuang Lin Chan Ssu) monastery, Singapore, 126

Shui hun Kung (Shui Yue Gong) temple, 377, 385

Shui Woh T'ong vegetarian hall, 414

Shui Yue Gong (Shui Uei Kung) temple, 377, 385

Shuk wan kwai. See Soul: Ransom from the spirit world

Shun T'ien Kung (Shuntian Gong) temple, 155

Shun-te (Shunte) district, Kwangtung Province, 98, 424–34, 438, 442, 445–46. See also Marriage resistance

Sichuan Province, China, 135, 161, 212–13, 232–33, 239, 258, 276 n3, 410

Siemen. See Miasmata

Sifang Guiren (Honourable Men from Everywhere), 84

Silk industry, 424–28, 432–33, 435, 440–42, 445–46

Silver, 462. See also Gold and silver bullion, paper

Sin, 135, 431–32, 438, 483

Sin Tin Taoism Association Ltd., 412

Singapore, 28, 97, 148, 201

Chinese community, 177, 179, 180 n14, 183 n22, 200–2

Concubinage legislation, 111

Economy, 76, 77, 285–86, 291

Ethnic groups, 180 n14, 282

Immigration to, 175, 429, 442, 443

Topley’s career in, 1–2, 4–11

Vegetarian halls, 411–12

Sino-Japanese War, 116, 149, 236, 309, 331, 412, 442, 497

Sinology, 11–12

Sip Tai Seou. See Raising up Tai Seou rite

Sisterhoods, 423, 432–33, 436, 445. See also Golden Orchid Associations

Sisters, elder (a-tse, a jie), 484–85

Sisters, sworn (shuang jiebai), 432

Sisters’ houses (zimei wu), 429–30, 440–43

Sisters-in-law (a-so, a sao; brother’s wife), 484–85

Six-yen. See Little men

Skinner, G. William, 12, 13

Smallpox, 456, 457, 472

Snakes, charms portraying, 44, 531

So-lo (Cantonese: sulao) disease, 453, 455–56, 459

Social classes, 292, 295–96, 319

Mobility within, 302, 303

Relation to education, 316–17, 319, 334, 372

Social cohesion, 262, 268–71

Social obligations, 297, 482

Cost of, 305, 344, 348

Financing of, 292–93, 311, 352, 357

Social status, 294–96, 315, 333–34, 341

Ambiguity of, 457–59

Factors influencing, 309–10, 319–21

Social supports, 140, 179, 306, 316, 319. See also Philanthropic associations

Society, secularization of, 200–2

“Society”, terminology on, 236 n99, 257–58

Society of Apothecaries, Hong Kong, 502

Sons, bonded (k’ai-tsai, qizi), 480–81

Sons, eldest (zhangzi), 350–51

Marriage customs, 97–99, 101–2, 434

Role in family, 57–58, 108–9, 186 n29

Sons, emigrant, 350

Soul, 394. See also Reincarnation;

Spirits of the dead

Beliefs on, 221, 374–75, 388, 460–63, 466–69, 476

Care of, 57, 388, 390
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Index</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Imbalance in, 536</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Of foetus and newborn, 475–76</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Offense of, 388–89, 483–84, 486</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>(See also Mother-child syndrome)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ransom from the spirit world (shuk wan kwai, shu hun gui), 464</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Repose of (See Rites for the dead)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Separation from body, 49–50, 462–67, 535–38 (See also Calling Back</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>the Soul rite)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Soul tablets, permanent (Shen zhupai), 62 n8, 116, 121, 189, 244,416</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Of unmarried persons, 295, 406</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Preservation of, 128–29, 153, 185–86, 191, 193</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Rites for, 128, 150, 157, 243</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sale of, 305</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Types of, 186 n29</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Soul tablets, temporary (longpai), 60, 62–66, 69, 71, 102</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Spinsters’ houses (gupo wu), 440–41</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Spirit mediums, 5, 9, 12, 151 n40, 194, 383 n3</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Buddhist beliefs on, 147</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Creation of blood charms (xuefu), 74, 93, 96</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cults, 152–53, 178, 188, 189, 251</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Places of worship for, 129, 151–53</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Rites performed by, 27, 98, 101–2, 390–91</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Role in traditional medicine, 453, 495, 526, 536</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Spirits (demons), 29, 37 n10, 40, 86–88, 395. See also Deities</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Activities of, 365–66</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Benevolent, 386</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Characteristics of, 42, 458, 473</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Charms against, 76, 92, 393</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Origins of, 374–76</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Possession by, 387, 391, 461–67, 545 (See also Exorcism)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Relation with humans, 384, 395, 400, 401, 531</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Rites related to, 73, 389–91</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Role in disease causation, 36–37, 453, 454, 461, 472–73, 499, 544</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Terminology on, 374</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Spirits of the dead, 371–75, 387–91, 483. See also Rites for the</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>dead</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>As sources of disease or disorder, 500</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Communication with (See Spirit mediums)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cults for, 242</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Haunting by, 467–69</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Interdependence with living, 384–86, 402</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Material needs of, 57, 68, 70, 71, 91, 100, 102–3</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Rites for (See Rites for the dead)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Yin nature of, 390</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Spitting in rites, 50, 65, 464</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Standard of living, 297</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Star gods, 80</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>State cults, 246–48, 258</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stock exchanges, 297, 312, 324</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Strait Times, 4–5, 165</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Straits Settlement, 4, 152, 153, 191. See also Penang; Singapore</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>“Strange” disease (k’ei-peng, qibing), 472–73, 474. See also Diseases</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>and disorders: Contagious</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>“Strangeness” theory, 472–74, 508</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sui Jin Bai/Tinhou (Sui Tsing Paak/T’in Hau) Temple, 375, 384, 385</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sui Tsing Paak/T’in Hau (Sui Jin Bai/Tinhou) Temple, 375, 384, 385</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Suicide, 431, 439</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sulao (Cantonese). See So-lo</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Supernatural as area of scientific study, 371–72</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Surname exogamy, 311</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Surname villages, 335, 426</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Surrounding the Garden rite (Wai Fa Uen, Wei Hua Yuan), 50–52</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sutras, 91, 208 n19, 221, 229</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Great Way of Former Heaven, 259</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Recording of repetitions, 75, 91</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sectarian, 408</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Taoist use of, 133</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Swords, ceremonial, 65–66, 74, 93, 96</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Swords, portrayed on charms, 79</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Symbols, mystic, 73

T

Taai pei ch’aam. See Repentance, rite of
T’ai Sui. See Minister/Ministry of Time
Taai-paan (bosses), 298–99
Tablet shrines, 150
Tablets (p’ai; charms), 74, 78–79, 393
Tai Seou. See Minister/Ministry of Time
Taisui. See Minister/Ministry of Time
Taiwan, 14, 435, 473, 477, 506. See also Kuomintang
Tang Dynasty, 451, 527
Ta (dao; the way), 132, 213, 214 n43, 367–69, 412
Tao Seou. See Minister/Ministry of Time
T’ao Yuan Fu T’ang (Taoyuan Fotang; Peach Garden Buddha Hall) vegetarian hall, 158–59
Taoism, Taoists, 114, 132–40, 196, 214 n43, 372, 374
19th C. rural China, 256–58, 269
Beliefs, 147, 153, 158, 185, 221, 368–69
Founder of, 79
Influence on Chinese popular religion, 131–33, 144, 147, 258, 408, 417
Influence on traditional medicine, 451
Institutionalization of, 178–79
Non-monastic, 257
Physical exercises, 407
Temple rites, 27–28
Terminology on, 257–58, 387, 412
True Unity School (Zhengyi), 102, 136
Taxation, 307, 318, 319
Tea, 33, 36, 46, 56, 122
Tea-houses, 342
Temple associations (she), 184, 250–51, 336, 343, 353, 418
Temple keepers, 35–36, 61–62, 74, 249
Temple of the Golden Flower, 32–35
Temple seal, 40
Temples, 53–55, 99, 125, 149–59, 201, 387, 405, 419, 431. See also specific temples; Places of worship
19th C. rural China, 247, 249–51, 268–69
Buddhist, 5, 28, 153, 197
Building of, 171
Chinese government policy on, 140
Employees, 37, 40, 249
Non-residential, 128–29
Physical appearance of, 149, 185
Rites performed at, 28, 73, 178, 392, 400, 495
Secret societies’ organization of, 188
Sources of income, 53, 121–22, 149, 153, 154–57, 167
Taoist, 28n
Terminology on, 125, 130, 131
Teochew (Tiuchew, Tiuchiu, Chaozhou) people. See Tiuchiu people
Territorial/dialect associations, 128, 179, 297, 315–16
Inclusion criteria for, 176–77, 181, 184, 191
Member benefits, 191, 193–94
Secret societies, 181–82
Textile industry, 325. See also Silk industry
Thailand (Siam), 410, 145
Theatrical companies, 159, 165, 430
Theft, 40, 344, 345
Thian Hock Keng (Thianfu Gong), 128, 154
Thread, red, 45, 479–80
Three epochs. See Earthly cycles
Thianfu Gong (Thian Hock Keng), 128, 154
Tianhou Shengmu (Queen of Heaven), 8
Tianjun (Heavenly worthies), 246–49, 387
Tiger, Eagle, and Snake charm, 44
Tiger head, 44, 64, 79, 395, 531
Tiger Head gate, 30–34, 39, 49, 395, 396
Index

Tiuchew people. See Tiuchiu people
Tiuchiu (Chaozhou, Tiuchew) dialect, 183 n22, 276
Tiuchiu (Chaozhou, Tiuchew, Teochew) people, 160, 184, 194–95, 275–76.
  Charms used by, 75, 87, 91–92
  Interaction with other dialect groups, 116
  Rituals, 28, 59
  Worship of immigrant pioneers, 142
Toa Peh Kong, 122, 142, 155 158–59, 185
Toa Peh Kong Society (Triad), 186–87, 188
Tong Xian (Immortal Youth), 82, 87
Tongshan She. See Tung Shan She sect
Topley, Kenneth Wallis Joseph, 4, 5, 12, 17 n10
Topley, Marjorie, 6, 9, 22–24
  Academic career, 1–2, 12, 13–14, 18–20
  Education, 2–4, 5, 11–12
  Hong Kong research, 11–17
  Language studies, 5
  Role in revival of RAS Hong Kong Branch, 14–15
  Singapore research, 4–11
Touching, customs on, 457–48
Tourism, 307–8, 328
Toxaemia of pregnancy, 478, 483
Trade, 285, 288–89, 292, 316
Trade unions, 326, 503
Traditional associations. See Voluntary associations
Tranquility, charms for, 80, 81
“Transformation Body”, 222
  See also Childbirth; Rites of passage; Social status
Transmigration of the soul, 137
Trauma due to fright, 465
Travellers, charms used by, 84, 87
Trees, for ritual bonding, 481, 482
Triad societies, 144, 210 n22, 236 n99, 266–67, 433
  Activities of, 186–88, 513
  Resistance to, 268
Troubles, 157, 299, 300. See also Bad luck
  Financial problems, 151–52
  Protection from, 73
  Rites for, 156, 251–52, 389, 400
  (See also Raising up Tai Seou rite)
  Sources of, 52, 53, 80 n8, 98–99, 382–92, 401, 479
Truth, 213–16, 234–35, 408–9, 417
Ts’ei-hei. See Miasmata
Ts’e-mung. See Miasmata
Tsing Shat vegetarian hall, 420
Ts’ip. See Concubinage, concubines
Tu Ming An nunnery, Singapore, 168–69
Tua Peck Kong (Dabo Gong). See Toa Peh Kong
Tuberculosis, 497, 499, 515
Tudi Gong. See Earth God
Tuk. See Diseases and disorders, “Poisonous”
Tung Shan She (Tongshan She, Fellowship of Goodness) sect, 129 n5, 145, 197–99, 262, 408
  History of, 209, 212, 238
  Names for, 224
  Patriarchs, 207 n17, 208 n19, 222 n67
  Ranks, 219–20, 224–25
  Work performed by, 235
Tung Shan T’ang vegetarian hall, 131, 160, 163
Tzu-shu nü (zishu nü; “Women who put their own hair up”), 110, 169, 423, 438–43
Tzu-shu-nü (film), 443

U
Unbegotten Venerable Mother
(Wusheng Laomu), 236 n99, 417
Underworld. See Afterlife
United Kingdom, colonial administration. See Hong Kong
Colonial Government
Universal Helping of the Wandering
Spirits rite (Pudu gu yuan), 62, 66–68
Universe, 213–14, 400
University of Hong Kong, The, 12 n5, 15, 16, 19, 492, 524
Untying and Washing Away (the Illness) rite (kūai sēi jīxi), 395
Urban studies, 18–19
Urbanization, 302

V
Vaccination. See Inoculation
van Gennep, Arnold, 458–59
Vegetable Marketing Organization (VMO), 334, 347, 349, 354–56
Vegetarian halls (zhaitang), 107–23, 204, 218, 224, 430–32, 441–42. See also Places of worship, Residential; Vegetarians

Administration of, 119, 128, 145, 161–63, 192, 409
Buddhist, 114–15, 166, 406–7
Co-operation among, 120, 122, 145, 161–63, 165, 197, 229, 192–93 n46
Festival celebration at, 116, 158–59, 162–65
For men, 127, 160, 165, 225
Founding of, 119–20, 131, 147, 165, 171, 413–16
History of, 159–60, 229–31, 269
Master-disciple pseudo-kinship relations, 153–54, 192 n46, 229, 406, 409, 432
Membership in, 116–19, 160, 164, 260, 410–11, 416
Naming of, 116, 131
Non-residential, 209, 229–30, 409–10
Ownership of, 119–20, 160, 163–64
Physical appearance and layout of, 115–16, 120, 148, 164, 415–16
Ranks, 225, 407, 432
Reasons for joining, 113, 116–18, 166, 193, 442–43, 436
Relations with government, 410–12, 443
Relations with monasteries and nunneries, 166, 255
Relations with surrounding community, 405, 411, 418–20
Sources of income, 77, 117, 119–23, 128, 158–60, 162–64, 353
Spread of sectarian religion through, 120, 213
Statistics on, 412
Taoist, 114
Teachers (laoshi), 119–20, 122, 162–64
Terminology on, 127, 130
Topley’s research methods, 1–2, 4–5, 107
Urban versus rural, 256
Vegetarian restaurants, 114, 121–22
Vegetarianism, 45, 128, 162n, 199, 230, 236–37, 388, 477
In disease treatment, 456–57, 457
Legends re, 61
Of monks and nuns, 126, 458
Sectarian religious practices, 205, 219, 260
Temporary, 457–58
Vegetarians, 407
Adoption of children by, 114, 383
Bonding of children to, 481–82
Ritual expertise of, 121
Sources of income, 114, 164–65, 169, 353, 418
Venerable Mother goddess (Laomu), 417
Villages, 334. See also Lineage/clan villages; Surname villages
19th C. rural China, 13–14, 243–51, 265, 268–71
Confucian beliefs on, 369
Medical care available, 540
Virtue, 289–90, 368. See also Merit
Void, 214, 367, 376, 418
Index

Voluntary associations (Oi, hui), 176–77, 190, 201, 257, 315–16, 336, 353. See also specific types of associations; Ideological associations; Secret societies
  Administration of, 315–16
  Basis for membership, 198, 201 (See also Lineage/clan associations; Surname associations; Territorial associations)
  Religious elements of, 176–77, 181, 182, 184 (See also Festival associations; Long life associations)
  Secularization of, 200–1
  Sources of funding, 317, 318
  Universalist, 181, 307
  Vows not to marry, 169, 423, 430, 438, 444

Wages and salaries, 321–22, 325–29
Wai Fa Uen. See Surrounding the Garden rite
Waijing (External Classic), 530
Wak Hai Cheng Bio, Singapore, 8
Ward, Barbara E., 3, 12, 16
Washing, ritual, 458
Water, 427
  Use in occasional rites, 36, 37, 50
  Use in rites for the dead, 65, 66, 71
Water spirits (shen), 79, 135, 142
Way, the. See Tao
Way of Pervading Unity sect. See I Guan Dao
Wealth, 282–83, 287–97, 320–23, 328, 481–82. See also Cash; Prosperity
  Attitudes of poorer people towards, 318
  Calculation of, 295, 299–306
  Ceremonies related to, 290
  Charms for, 80, 81
  Communally owned, 306–7
  Influence on 19th C. rural Chinese social cohesion, 268
  Influence on religious life, 246–47,
  269
  Influence on social status, 244, 288, 294–96, 314–21, 333–34, 358
  Inherited, 311. See also Inheritance customs
  Of non-Chinese, 303–4
  Personal savings, 313–14, 349–51, 441
  Socially approved use of, 292, 293
  Visible displays of, 290, 298, 301, 314, 328
Wealth accumulation
  Attitudes of Hong Kong Chinese towards, 293–97
  Factors influencing, 282–85, 296, 311
  Means of, 288, 307–19
  Religious beliefs on, 288–89, 292–93
Wealth Bringing Credential (Zhaocai Die), 80, 81
Weddings, 98, 529. See also Brides
  Cost to family members, 285, 344, 349, 357
  Illness following, 534
Wei Hua Yuan. See Surrounding the Garden rite
Welch, Holmes, 15
Welfare institutions. See Social supports
Wenner-Gren Foundation, 13
Western culture, 275 n1, 301, 304, 316, 327–28
  Contact with, 275 n1, 297–99, 316
  Economic values/behaviours, 292, 322
Western Paradise (Jile), 91, 114, 137–38, 432
Western Royal Mother (Hsi Wang Mu, Xi Wangmu), 82, 87
Wet-nurses (a-naai, a nai), 484–85
White Lotus Society, 147, 211, 234–35, 259, 265, 409, 430. See also Nian society
White Tiger, 395, 399, 531, 538
  Alps to, 36, 40–42, 42 n14, 44, 400
  Rites involving, 36, 37, 45, 387, 400
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>White Tiger, Snake and Eagle charm,</th>
<th>index entries</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>42, 44</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Widows, 107, 116, 310, 340</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wills. See Inheritance customs</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wind, 474–76</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>“Wind and water”. See Feng-shui</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wind Catastrophe, 216</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wine, 122, 150, 395, 475</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wing Lok T'ung vegetarian hall, Ngau Chi Wan, 413–14, 417</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wolf, Arthur P., 14</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Women, 110–12, 295, 302, 436, 442</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Agricultural work, 284, 334–35, 426</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>As ritual experts, 68, 74, 75, 164,</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>193–94, 389–91, 538 (See also</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Nuns; Vegetarian halls</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cosmological beliefs on, 435–36</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Employment, 116–17, 406, 415, 424,</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>427, 436, 443 (See also Amahs)</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Impact of industrialization on, 109–</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10, 320–21</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Membership in territorial and clan</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>associations, 191 n45</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Position in family, 59, 109, 437, 440</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Religious practices, 27, 40, 42 n14,</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>52, 225, 372, 538</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Role in traditional medicine, 453,</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>455, 541</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Social status of, 225, 407, 415, 435–</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>37</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Women, married, 436. See also</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Childbirth; Fertility</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>First wives, 111–12 (See also</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Concubinage, concubines</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Refusal of cohabitation, 110, 169,</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>423, 437, 439–42, 445–46</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Role in family, 59, 351, 439–40</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Women, unmarried/unattached. See also</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Marriage resistance; Nuns;</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Vegetarians</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Adoption of children, 111</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Attitudes toward marriage, 111,</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>424–46 (See also Marriage</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>resistance)</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Communal housing of, 437, 429</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>(See also Girls’ houses; Sisters’</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>houses; Spinsters’ halls;</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Vegetarian halls</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Financial contribution to family,</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>109–10, 436, 437, 442–46</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Marriageability of, 320–21, 340</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sexual practices of, 438</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Social status of, 219, 436, 443, 253–</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>54</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Social support, 107, 110–12, 437</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>(See also Sisterhoods)</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Soul tablets, 191</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>“Women who do not go down to the</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>family” See Bu luojia</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>“Women who put their own hair up”.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>See Tzu-shu nü</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>World War II, 3–4, 116, 118, 149, 179</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>n10, 236. See also Sino-Japanese War *Worship (against) the Little Man rite.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>See Prayer against the Little Man rite.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Worthies, Heavenly (Tianjun), 246–249, 387</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wu gui. See Five demons</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wu-gung. See under Great Way of Former Heaven ranks</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wuji Shengmu. Sainted Mother of the Void, 214 n44. See also Golden Mother goddess</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Washeng Laomu (Unbegotten Venerable Mother), 236 n99, 417</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Waxing. See Five basic elements</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

X

Xi Wangmu. See Western Royal Mother Xiantian Dadao. See Great Way of Former Heaven Xiantian Men. See Pudu Men Xiaoren. See Little men Xiayuan festival, 85 Xie. See Animals: Improper Xieqi. See Miasmata Xiuxing (personal cultivation), 289–90 Xiyi. See Doctors, Western Xiyou Ji (Record of the Western Journey), 152 Xuefu. See Blood charms
Index

Y

Yan-uen Shek (Marriage Affinity Rock), 481
Yang. See Yin and yang. See also under Deities
Yao Ch’ih Chin Mu. See Golden Mother of the Yao Pool
Yao-ch’ih Men (Sect of the Yao Pool), 230, 236–37
Yaochi Jinmu. See Golden Mother of the Yao Pool
Yidu gongdu. See “Poisonous” medicines
Yijing. See Book of Changes
Yin and yang, 34, 79, 87, 154 n49, 365, 367–68, 371, 390, 435. See also under Heat and cold theory
Application in traditional medicine, 451–52, 456, 472–74, 511, 528, 538
Cosmology related to, 133, 374, 408
Depictions on charms, 80, 81
Great and Little Traditions, 373
Great Way of Former Heaven beliefs on, 213, 214, 223, 231, 267 n52
Incorporation into Taoism, 134
Influence on possession by spirits, 383 n3
Transliteration issues re, 449 n3
Yinyuan Die (Peace Loving Couple) charm, 82
Yu Nü (Jade Maidens), 82, 87
Yuan Dynasty, 141, 211
Yuhuang Dian temple, 127, 130

Z
Zen Meditation School. See Chan Meditation School
Zhaigu (lay nuns), 126
Zhaitang. See Vegetarian halls
Zhang Daoling (Zhang Tianshi), 78, 79, 92, 134–35
Zhangzi. See Sons, eldest
Zhaocai Die (Wealth Bringing Credential), 80, 81
Zhengyi (True Unity School of Taoism), 102, 136
Zhou Dynasty, 133 n9, 451
Zhanji. See Goddess of Light/Dawn
Zimei wu (sisters’ houses), 429–30, 440–43
Zishu nü. See Tzu-shu nü